Moon May Relay Beams This Year

Washington (AP) — A revolutionary radio communications system, using the moon as a relay station, is expected to be in regular operation between the United States and Hawaii before the end of this year, the Navy said Thursday.

It involves sending messages on a trip totalling about a half-million miles in less than 3 seconds.

Presumably the first step in using the moon or artificial satellites as relay points between widely separated parts of the world, the system would open up many new channels of communication for the earth's already crowded air ways.

No Interference

Also, scientists anticipate the space relay system would be largely immune to black outs and other interference phenomena of nature. Some even say it's possible the system might be immune to enemy jamming.

It was learned there is a transmitting station at Annapolis, Md., and a receiving station at Cheltenham, Md. On the Hawaii end there is a transmitting station at Opana and a receiving station at Wahiawa, both on the island of Oahu.

The system would have limitations. Transmission between any two points on the earth—such as Hawaii and Maryland—would be limited to times when the moon was visible to both points at the same time

Just Keep On Sweatin' And Hopin'

No relief from the heat is in sight for Nebraskans Friday, according to the Weatherman.

Sweltering 90-degree temperatures are expected to prevail throughout the state.

Scattered showers and thunderstorms are predicted for the northern portion, with somewhat warmer temperatures in the extreme north.

The southern part of the state will be fair.

A state high of 98 was reported at North Platte Thursday with a low of 60 reported at Sidney.

Spot Checks By Patrol Begin Soon

Omaha (AP) — Gov. Ralph Brooks will order the Safety Patrol to start extensive spot checks throughout the state Sept. 28.

Brooks said the campaign cannot start sooner because a law authorizing the procedure does not go into effect until then.

He said the checks are to determine if cars are in good mechanical condition and if drivers have proper licenses.

Brooks said the 5% increase in traffic fatalities so far this year over last year's record must be balanced against a 6% increase in vehicle miles traveled in the state and an additional 50,000 motor vehicle registration and 6,000 more drivers.

Airport Aid For Lincoln, 13 Other Towns Gets State Aeronautics OK

...$1,513,000 Federal, $50,000 State Funds For City

By Betty Person

Airport projects for Lincoln, Omaha and 13 other Nebraska communities were approved Thursday by the State Aeronautics Commission which gave the green light on federal and state assistance, but the federal funds are still subject to approval by the Federal Aviation Agency.

This results from the Commission's having approved more in federal aid than has been allocated to the state for the next two years which means the state will be asking for "discretionary" federal funds out of the total national appropriation of $15 million.

Lincoln was approved for $1,513,000 in federal funds and $50,000 in state funds for fiscal 1960.

The total construction cost of the Lincoln Airport will be $3,467,417, of which $3,026,000 is eligible for 50% federal assistance. Some $442,000 in construction items is not eligible for aid. This makes the total amount Lincoln will have to provide for the airport $1,463,000.

The total amount of federal funds approved by the Commission was $2,375,500 for fiscal 1960 and $907,000 for the second year, compared with the $759,013 allocated to the state for each of the next two years.

State funds approved included $136,750 for the first year, and $75,000 for the second year. In addition to the $75,000 approved for fiscal 1961, the Commission transferred $41,000 from a previous state allocation for the Gordon project.

The 13 other community projects are located at Alliance, Bassett, Cambridge, Fairbury, Gordon, Grand Island, Hastings, Hemingford, Imperial, Kimball, North Platte, Ogallala, and Wayne.

Before approving the allocations, the Commission gave formal approval to new airport sites at Lincoln, Ogallala, Cambridge and Hemingford.

In approving the allocations for Lincoln, the State Aeronautics Commission made it very plain that the approval was for an air carrier airport which includes use by both commercial and private planes.

The Lincoln Airport Authority had first indicated the new east Lincoln airport would be used initially for private planes with possible later transfer of commercial flights from the present Municipal Airport at the Lincoln Air Force Base.

The Commission said it could make such grants as requested only for an airport which would serve commercial as well as private planes.

The Lincoln allocations were wrapped up in one year, fiscal 1960, but Omaha's huge project was divided into two years as requested by the Omaha Airport Authority.

Omaha was approved for $660,000 in federal aid for 1960, and for $775,000 in federal funds in fiscal 1961. The Commission agreed to allocate $50,000 in state funds to Omaha for fiscal 1961, but earmarked no state funds to that project out of 1960 allocations.

The State Aeronautics Department will now prepare data on the projects to submit to the FFA by Sept. 1. A decision on the requests for the 1960 projects is expected about Nov. 1, and approval on the 1961 projects is expected by Jan. 1, 1960.

Thursday's approval of the projects marked the first time Nebraska has asked for discretionary funds.

Jack Obbink, director of the Aeronautics Department, said if the federal agency does not approve the total requests, it will require "complete reconsideration" of the Nebraska projects by the state commission.

He added, however, that the federal government would approve nothing less than the amount already allocated to the state.

Safety Meet Seeks Strict, Uniform Laws

Omaha (UPI) — A program including rigid examinations for drivers' license applicants, higher first-offense penalties, and mandatory motor vehicle inspection laws was approved Thursday by the regional governor's traffic safety conference here.

The recommendations were approved in the form of resolutions from various panels at the close of the daylong conference, which attracted 200 business, civic, church, military, education and police officials and leaders.

The group responded enthusiastically to a call by governor Brooks for "individual responsibility." Six panel discussions under the general heading of religion, education, business, judicial, law enforcement and news media talked over the safety campaign in relation to those fields.

At Least One Sermon

A sidelight of the recommendations was a call by the panel on "religious leadership for safety" to all the state's clergymen to make at least one sermon on traffic safety some time before labor day.

The panel on uniform traffic court procedures and the group discussing safety programs in schools both presented resolutions calling for drivers' training.

The court procedures group called for "more rigid tests for drivers' license examinations, including periodic physical examinations and re-examinations at specific periods." The same group, which was headed by Omaha Municipal Judge Frank Nimtz, recommended support of higher penalties for first offense speeders and other violators.

The group also called for banishment of the practice followed in some parts of the state of permitting violators to waive court appearances, plead guilty, and pay fines on the spot or by mail. In a recommendation aimed at traffic courts generally, the group recommended a look into methods of expediting movement of cases in the courts.

The education group recommended establishment of a statewide program by educators in driver training, and urged that the Legislature adopt a mandatory vehicle inspection law.

Col. C. J. Sanders, chief of the State Safety Patrol, said at one of the sessions that he plans to make more intensive periodic checks of vehicles and drivers' licenses around the state soon.

Other recommendations offered included:

—Enactment of uniform laws concerning signs, buses, school patrols and other safety devices.
—Establishment of "safe-teen" clubs by school districts.
—Business suport of local safety councils and of safety legislation.
—Dramatization by the news media of human and economic losses through traffic mishaps.
—Formation of statewide committees of clergymen to create community safety committees.
—Studies by government agencies of administrative methods of increasing safety.

The meeting was opened by Brooks with a call to all the delegates for "individual responsibility" in answering the challenge of an increasing traffic accident rate.

In a keynote address at the day-long conference Brooks said everyone must be taught that a car "is a deadly, lethal, killing weapon."

He said the first safety conference, held in Lincoln Jan. 28 "didn't get the results we wanted." He was referring to the increase of 8 traffic deaths this year over last year's record breaking toll.

Army's GI Scientists In Hot Water Again

...General Boils At Their Attitude

Edgewood, Md. (AP) — Some of the Army's soldier-scientists are in hot water again because their parents didn't teach them decent respect for their country. And neither did the schools and colleges they attended.

That, in effect, is how the commander of the Strategic Army Chemical Center here sizes up the latest flareup by young college grads against Army life.

About 60 of the drafted specialists kicked over the traces at a tavern near this hush-hush base last Thursday night. To put it mildly, they let everyone within range of a howitzer know they were fed up with being Dogfaces.

One of the songs they sang, "Down With the Army," was one of the more tepid tunes they rendered between steins.

"Somewhere along the line, declared Brig. Gen Harold Walmsley, base commander, "American parents and educational systems have failed to instill in these men an appreciation for their heritage and the desire to perform duties for their country."

He went on to say the outburst "has its origins in a lack of proper home training and home discipline into the higher education system."

Apparently Gen. Walmsley intends to give them some of that background before they leave.

"The general has no plan to conduct a police-type lineup," a base spokesman said. "His main concern is to investigate the complaint, and, based on the facts of the investigation, determine a fair course of action."

The soldier-scientists are a product of a special Army program begun several years ago. The young men are drafted after completing their specialized training and are employed in conducting chemical experiments, figuring involved math problems and the like, in keeping with their specialties.

Many of the draftees in the program, however, gripe about having to perform dogface duties, such as K.P., while working on the special assignments. And they say they don't get any recognition for the work they do.

Would Give Needy Help

House Tacks Controversial Item Onto Farm Surplus Measure

Washington, D.C. (UPI)—The House Thursday overrode administration objections and approved legislation to provide needy families with government stamps entitling them to free foods at their local grocery.

By a 232-127 vote, the House added the controversial billion-dollar food stamp plan as an admendment to an administration-backed bill which would extend for another year the government's program for disposing of farm surpluses overseas.

The House then passed 305-53 the broadened measure and sent it to the Senate. Republicans warned coupling the food stamp plan to the bill raised a threat that the president would veto the measure.

They voiced that alarm even though the disputed amendment would merely authorize and not require the secretary of agriculture to put the food stamp plan into operation.

The agriculture department would be permitted to use the stamp plan to dispose annually of $1,000,000,000 worth of foods acquired in the government farm price support operations.

'Welfare'

Republicans said this would put the department into the "welfare business."

Otherwise, the bill would extend for one year the existing surplus disposal program scheduled to expire Dec. 31, 1959. Under this program farm surpluses are sold for foreign currencies, bartered for minerals, or given away to foreign peoples.

The bill would authorize sale of an additional $1,500,000,000 worth of farm surplus for foreign currencies and would permit $300,000,000 worth to be given away.

The House rejected 142-134 a move by members from Atlantic and gulf ports to limit a contemplated expansion in shipments of farm products through the newly-opened St. Lawrence Seaway.

The rejected amendment would have required that all farm commodities shipped under the surplus disposal program be transported from U.S. ports to foreign destinations without transfer to other ships.

Earlier Plan

A food stamp program was started shortly before World War II by Henry A. Wallace, when he was secretary of agriculture. Republican foes noted in floor debate the plan was abandoned after a brief trial and never re-instituted by any of Wallace's successors.

The agriculture department now makes its surplus foods available upon request to state agencies for distribution to needy families.

But Rep. Leonor K. Sullivan (D-Mo.), who sponsored the successful amendment, said this has imposed geographical limits on distribution. She said many states don't have facilities or the funds for handling distribution.

AF Fails In Capsule Catch Try

Vandenberg Air Base, Calif. (UPI) — The Air Force failed Thursday to recover a 300-pound capsule ejected from the Discoverer VI satellite high above the earth.

Two previous recovery tries in earlier discoverer satellite shots also failed.

The Defense Department said the capsule from Discoverer VI was successfully ejected as scheduled over the Pacific but a fleet of planes and ships waiting to retrieve it as it parachuted down failed to sight it visually or pick up its radio signals.

"Therefore it is unlikely that the capsule will be recovered although the search will be continued for a number of hours," the department statement, released in Washington, said.

Quake Death Toll Up To 9

West Yellowstone, Mont. (AP)—A woman injured when the side of a mountain gave way in southwest Montana's earthquake Monday night died Thursday of her injuries, raising the toll of known dead to 9.

She was Mrs. Ray Painter, 42, of Ogden, Utah. She died in a Bozeman Mont., hospital.

Mrs. Painter was among the persons injured at Rock Creek camp ground, where a slide choked the Madison River.

There have been 372 aftershocks since the major quake, Montana State College said it had been informed by the U.S. Geodetic Survey.

'Lincoln At The Crossroads':

Brighter Commercial Future Seen For City

(Editor's Note: This is the last in a series of 5 articles on the future of Lincoln as seen by local business leaders.)

By Don Walton

Lincoln is on the march to a brighter commercial future.

But, with this steady growth come major problems which, if not solved, will in the end destroy what it created.

"Lincoln," one leading businessman said, "is at the crossroads."

The major critical problem, as he sees it: "We must find more employment for our increased population. They've gotta' eat. The question of how much Lincoln will grow will be determined by how much employment we can provide."

(The city is growing at the rate of about 2,000 persons each year, may take on a more accelerated growth in the near future.)

Okay, so how do we provide the new employment?

A different business figure has the answer to that one.

"We put too much emphasis on the glamour of new industry," he pointed out.

"Where did growth come from in the first place?

"It came then, as it must now, from expansion by those who are already here.

That is the finest kind of expansion. There is a better chance that it will be permanent, more solid and stable, and it is made by people we already know."

However, he was quick to note, this does not mean Lincoln should cease or decrease its efforts to attract new commercial enterprises.

On the contrary, he urged, we should push harder along that line.

But, Lincoln should be ready to provide for its additional population by expansion of what is already here. Dependence on new industry to do it would be nothing short of a deadly gamble.

In this way, anything new would be a luxury hard-earned and heartily welcome.

Any of a dozen different factors will reflect Lincoln's present growth. Personal receipts are $4 million over last year; telephones have increased by 2,500; building permits have jumped from 861 at this time in 1958 to 1,008; new dwelling units have skyrocketed from 292 to 526, and bank clearings are $26 million over last year.

The sabre which could well have cut Lincoln's future to bits — the double-knived departure of the Elgin National Watch Co., and Western Electric,Inc. — was brushed aside with amazing speed.

Only 25% of those two firms' employes left Lincoln, but that alone cut the city's labor force.

That economic blow slowed Lincoln's commercial growth, but hardly stopped it.

Confidence abounds.

Downtown retail merchants and banks, insurance firms, utility companies and other businesses have shown considerable faith with multi-million dollar construction investments in the city's future.

Stability is plentiful. Dun and Bradstreet lists 32 Lincoln businesses as million-dollar institutions.

The University of Nebraska is hurriedly constructing two major facilities which will do much to lure people to Lincoln.

One is the $2.6 million Center for Continuing Education; the other, a $2.5 million Sheldon Art Gallery.

Enrollment (including the College of Medicine at Omaha) will total between 8,600 and 8,800 this fall not including night students.

Increased students will prompt construction of additional men's dormitory facilities, probably within the next biennium.

Meanwhile, state government grows. And, other schools and colleges, hospitals, etc.

But, more than mere tangibles are needed, businessmen say.

Lincoln will need imagination, diversification, culture, competition and quality to surpass its own ambitions.

"We are a great retail center not by fortune alone," one leading businessman said. "We've had leaders with imagination. We must give Lincoln what it demands: the best."

That, then, is the self-imposed task of a city with a dream.

Reaction Varied To State's Airport OK

...City's Ability To Float Bonds Questioned

By Virgil Falloon

The State Aeronautics Commission's first-step approval of $1,513,000 in federal aid for Lincoln's proposed municipal airport east of the city brought varied reaction Thursday.

Coupled with a $50,000 state aid grant, the Lincoln Airport Authority will still need approximately $1.9 million for the new airport estimated to cost $3,467,417.

Authority member Robert Phillips, one of 3 who voted for the east airport site, said he was "gratified" by the initial approval of federal and state funds, but said "quite a little work remains to be done."

However, Phillips said "bond people" have indicated a $1.9 million issue for 20 years could be obtained on an annual debt service of about $150,000.

Remains To Be Seen

But, Jack M. Pace, an Authority member who voted against the east plan, said "it still remains to be seen whether a bond issue can be floated."

"There's a serious question," Pace said, "whether the one mill levy can handle the debt service on a bond issue in addition to operating costs of a new airport."

C. Robert Fulton, another member, said the city "was to be congratulated on being recommended for the entire amount of its federal aid request," but added: "I'm still opposed to the new airport's location."

Chairman Leo Beck Jr. and Charles Stuart, members, were out of town and unavailable for comment."

More Than Proposed

Mayor Pat Boyles, commenting on the latest development, said he felt that "a lot more money will be spent on the new airport than has been proposed."

The mayor predicted there would be a number of items, additional costs, not now contemplated, that will be needed.

Without commenting directly on the Authority decision, Mayor Boyles said "the time for opposition appears to be past and we should make the best of it."

Between the two proposed plans, Boyles favored the municipal runway at the Lincoln Air Force Base.

Big 3 Meet Fails

...No Progress

New York (UPI)—The chief union and industry negotiators refused to give ground in the billion dollar steel strike impasse Thursday despite a call for a settlement by Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell.

Chief Federal Mediator Joseph F. Finnegan disclosed the lack of progress in settling the strike at a news conference that followed a priyate joint meeting with David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers Union, and R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator.

"Nothing that occurred today has changed my mind that there is to be an easy or an early settlement of the strike," said Finnegan.

It was the first such meeting of the "big three" of government, union and industry since Aug. 7, when McDonald stormily walked out on the talks.

'Clause By Clause'

Finnegan said negotiating subcommittees were continuing a "clause-by-clause analysis" of a proposed new contract, straightening out ambiguous language in the old expired contract.

"Up to now, neither side has got down to discussing dollars and cents matters—that is, wages," said Finnegan.

Finnegan said he had reviewed the "overall situation" with McDonald and Cooper, and planned to meet separately with them again on Monday. The subcommittees will resume their non-economic work Friday.

Meanwhile, in Unity House, Pa., the AFL-CIO promised unprecedented financial support to the steelworkers in behalf of its more than 13 million members. The federation also proclaimed next Labor Day, Sept. 7, as "Support the Steelworkers Day" in a unanimous resolution.

Muny Building Loses Its Power

A 5,000-volt cable supplying power to the Municipal Building at 10th and Q shorted out early Thursday morning but it was repaired about 3 hours later.

Police and firemen switched to emergency power facilities to maintain lighting and radio service.

W. L. Bitney of the City Light Dept. said the underground cable apparently was defective as it had only been installed two years ago. He said emergency repairs were made but it will take several days to replace the defective cable.

Bitney said a second cable for emergency use would also be installed. He said the cable pole was on the east side of 10th at the alley between Q and R.

Negro Bid For Election Fails In Tennessee

Memphis (AP) — The first strong Negro bid for a city commission seat collapsed Thursday night under the weight of a record breaking vote.

Russell B. Sugarmon Jr., a 30-year-old Negro lawyer, ran second in the race for public works commissioner, losing to the white "Unity Ticket" candidate, William W. Farris.

The Rev. Ben L. Hooks, a Negro lawyer and preacher, also lost his bid for juvenile judge. He ran against 3 white candidates.

In pre-election estimates, Sugarmon was given an almost even chance against 4 white candidates who were expected to split the white vote to splinters. It didn't work out that way.

MOON MEDDLES WITH SATELLITE

Cambridge, Mass. (AP) — The moon is meddling with the orbit of America's new "paddle-wheel" satellite, Explorer VI, and is going to shorten its life from what might otherwise have more than 20 years, down to about two.

The Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory so reported.

In a minor way, the sun is also interfering with the satellite's orbits and thus also shortening its life.

The cutting of the life-span of the man-made satellite will come from what are known as perturbations of its orbit. Perturbations are irregularities in the motion of a heavenly body—caused by some force other than that which determines its original, or usual, path.

Halsey Given Hero's Burial At Arlington

Washington (AP)—Fleet Adm. William F. Halsey was given a hero's burial in Arlington National Cemetery Thursday.

Old comrades from the Pacific campaigns of World War II, high government officials and hundreds of others attended the burial rites in Arlington after Episcopal funeral services at Washington Cathedral.

Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson, former Navy secretary, was in the funeral party, together with Deputy Secretary of Defense Thomas Gates, also a former civilian head of the Navy.

At the graveside, too, was the last survivor of the group of 4 fleet admirals, of five-star rank, appointed during the war. Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, the wartime Pacific commander in chief, white haired but trim and erect, was there to say goodby to "Bull Halsey."

Born in Indianola, Mr. Puckett had been a Nebraska resident most of his life. He had lived in Lincoln for 28 years.

A former VA inspector and real estate man, Mr. Puckett was a member of the Westminster Presbyterian Church, Elks and was the former owner of the Hastings Airport.

State's Demo Congressmen Against 1c Gas Tax Hike

Washington (AP) — Nebraska's two Democratic congressman Thursday expressed opposition to a proposed one cent increase in a federal gasoline tax to help finance the Interstate highway program.

Rep. Donald F. McGinley said he would oppose an increase in the tax unless it came to a point where it was obvious that no other source of financing for the program was available. He added he is hopeful some other solution can be worked out on the House floor.

Rep. Larry Brock said "why saddle the little fellow with a higher gas tax" when he certainly is paying enough already.

The two joined a general Democratic revolt against a compromise highway plan which has been approved by the House Ways and Means Committee.

Brock proposed his own plan to provide funds for the highway program which would in effect reduce the 27½% depletion allowance oil and gas producers are allowed on their income tax returns by 5%.

Brock suggested that this 5%, which would represent additional income to the treasury, be earmarked for the highway trust fund. He estimated his proposal would produce revenue of about $4 billion during 1960-66.

The financing proposal by the House Ways and Means Committee, he added, has been estimated to produce a total of about $3½ billion over a 22-month period.

The committee, in addition to suggesting a one-cent gas tax increase from Sept. 1 to July 1, 1961, also called for transfer of 5% of the excise tax on sales of cars and accessories from the general fund of the Treasury to the highway trust fund from 1962 through 1964.

Brock said in the final analysis, oil and gas producers will reap the harvest through better highways, more travel, more gas and oil and more accessories.

"Why, then, should they not bear a fair and proportionate share of the cost of this financial bonanza. Why saddle the little fellow with a higher gasoline tax, and surely he is paying enough now, when the big fellow is skimming the top off the gravy."

S. Africa Seeks Honor

United Nations (AP) — The Union of South Africa is campaigning for one of the 13 vice presidencies in the U.N. General Assembly opening here Sept. 15. It normally can expect opposition from the anti-segregationist nations of Asia and Africa and especially from those who criticize South Africa's treatment of its Asian-origin nationals and its handling of the southwest Africa trusteeship.

$143 Million Funds Added To House Bill

...Military Use

Washington (AP)—The Senate Appropriations Committee added more than 143 million dollars Thursday to a House-passed bill to pay for hundreds of military construction projects in the United States and overseas.

The group added millions of dollars to build 86 more armories for Army National Guardsmen in 30 states, to give the Air Force additional shops and machines to test and repair jet fighters and bombers, and to construct 10 additional military hospitals in this country.

The Senate agreed to take up the measure Friday. It contains $1,428,178,700, $143,176,000 more than the House allowed, 24 million dollars above last year's total but still 135 million below President Eisenhower's budget requests.

All of the armed services won increases from the Senate group but their reserve units received even more generous treatment.

The Senate committee boosted House allowances for the Army Reserve, Naval Reserve, Air Force Reserve and Air National Guard to the full budget requests.

And for the Army National Guard it added $12,219,000, or more than double the budget request. The House figure was 11 million dollars.

MOTHERWELL FACES CHARGE OF MURDER

Sierraville, Calif. (UPI) — Authorities filed a murder complaint Thursday against Larry Lord Motherwell, central character in the mysterious, disappearance of a Washington, D.C., widow 30 years his senior.

Motherwell

The bones of Mrs. Pearl Putney, 72, were found Sunday along a logging road 6 miles from this mountain town. She dropped from sight Aug. 15, 1958, after leaving a Marysville, Calif., motel with Motherwell, 42.

An all-points bulletin was issued for Motherwell's arrest. His third wife in Washington refused to discuss his whereabouts but authorities here hinted they knew where he could be located.

"It's not the easiest case in the world to prove," said Sierra County District Attorney Gordon I. Smith, who filed the complaint, "but we think we've got enough to go after him."

Later, the FBI announced in Washington that it filed charges against Motherwell in San Francisco for unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for the crime of murder.

Hope Diamond Doesn't Bother Postman, But—

Washington (AP) — James G. Todd, 35-year old postman, is the man who delivered the famed Hope Diamond to the Smithsonian Institution last November.

Around that million-dollar diamond there has long been an aura of tragedy and violent death.

Todd says he isn't superstitious and never will be. But since he delivered the Hope Diamond, a registered mail package:

Todd has had a leg crushed by a truck.

His wife, mother of 4, suffered a heart attack and died while Todd was recuperating.

Todd was thrown from a car in an accident, suffering a head wound.

His dog, Smoochy, leashed outside the house, jumped through a basement window and strangled on the leash.

Four second-story rooms of his house in nearby Pleasant, Md., were wrecked by fire.

But Todd's troubles have nothing to do with the 44½ carat diamond, he says. "I don't believe any of that stuff."

Nikita Not Wanted At AFL-CIO Meeting

Forest Park, Pa. (AP)—George Meany, AFL-CIO president, said Thursday he would reject out of hand any proposal, even from the State Department, that Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev be invited to address the AFL-CIO's coming convention in San Francisco.

It has been reported the State Department would be happy to see Khrushchev appear at the AFL-CIO meeting in mid-September when the Soviet boss visits the United States, so he could witness freedom enjoyed by American labor.

Congress Vote-Swap Charged

...By George Meany

Forest Park, Pa. (AP) — The AFL-CIO's high command said Southern Democrats and Northern Republicans in Congress engaged in cynical vote-swapping to pass strict labor controls and kill off civil rights legislation.

George Meany, federation president, said he had no direct evidence of any such deal, but he and other AFL-CIO chiefs feel sure there is one.

"We studied the rollcall that put over the harsh labor control bill last week and we know such a coalition exists, he commented. "We jumped to our conclusions. Let 'em sue us."

Called Anti-Union

Meany's reference was to the vote by which the House Reps. Phil M. Landrum (D-Ga) and Robert P. Griffin (R-Mich) and backed by the Eisenhower administration. The AFL-CIO has termed it an anti-union measure.

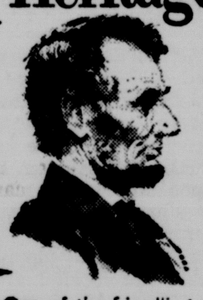

Senate and House conferees in Washington now are trying to resolve differences between the Landrum-Griffin bill and one passed earlier by the Senate. The AFL-CIO also opposes the Senate bill, but with less vehemence.

The AFL-CIO Executive Council adopted a resolution charging a deal to pass stiff labor control and at the same time kill off any meaningful civil rights legislation this year.

Late Report

Moscow (AP) — The Soviet agency Tass reported Thursday the launching of the U.S. Discoverer VI satellite in a 120-word dispatch from New York. It said that none of the Discoverer satellites so far had been a complete success.

Lawmakers Blast Back At Carey

Washington (AP) — AFL-CIO chieftain James B. Carey Thursday promised ballot box retribution for House members who helped push through a labor control bill he called vindictive.

Carey

Republican and Democratic targets of Carey's threat immediately accused the AFL-CIO vice president of attempting political blackmail and fostering class hatred. Some said his action was an example of why legislation is needed to curb the powers of union leaders.

The ruckus was touched off when Carey sent blistering letters to 229 representatives who on a key vote last week supported a labor bill sponsored by Reps. Phil M. Landrum (D-Ga) and Robert P. Griffin (R-Mich).

He wrote these House members "we shall do all in our power to prove to the working men and women in your district that you have cast your lot against them and they should therefore take appropriate action at the ballot box."

Thank-You Letters, Too

At the same time, Carey sent thank-you letters to 201 Democrats and Republicans who voted against the relatively strict Griffin-Landrum bill which was endoresed by President Eisenhower but opposed by organized labor.

Carey told these House members he was confident their stand would assure them of support from the working men and women of their districts. To the Republicans, Carey directed a special word of appreciation for voting against the Griffin-Landrum bill despite what Carey said was "terrific pressure" from the administration and their party.

An aide said Carey acted as president of the International Union of Electrical Workers and with approval of its officers.

Asked if Carey cleared the letters with AFL-CIO President George Meany, the aide replied: "It had no connection with Meany."

Calls It Blackmail

Blasting back, Rep. Steven B. Drounian (R-NY) asked Carey: "Who do you think you are to be threatening members of the United States Congress?" Drounian said his judgment would not be influenced by "your attempt at political blackmail."

Rep. Iris Blitch (D-Ga) wrote Carey his letter "explains far better than I can my reason for voting for the Landrum bill."

Landrum said "Carey's letter doesn't worry me a damn bit."

Griffin said the issue has been whether the people control Congress or whether Congress is controlled by a few labor bosses, adding:

"Thank God, the evidence is that the people do control it."

Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz), who is trying to get a Senate-House conference committee to accept some features of the House bill, called Carey's letter "the damndest display of arrogance I've ever seen."

Phil Weaver Has Reply For Carey

1st District Congressman Phil Weaver, who received one of Carey's letters, told The Star Thursday that he replied:

"Your letter to me has, I believe, done your union and organized labor throughout America a great disservice. In it and by it, you have confirmed for all that which those who have had the temerity to oppose you in the past already know; that is, the dependence of highly paid union leaders on threats to gain their wills.

"I wonder, sir, if you consulted the rank and file of your membership before sending such a letter and if they believe as honest American citizens, that your constitutional rights to petition the Congress include the right to threaten Congressmen, either as individuals or as a group.

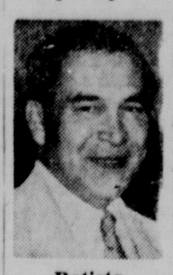

"If you feel you can adopt this cavalier attitude toward an elected public official, how much less regard you must hold for the men and women who must join your union to retain their jobs!

"In closing, may I add that I have every confidence that you do not speak for the working men and women of America, but rather for those who have found in the labor movement a horse upon which they can ride to personal power and gain."

BATISTA PAUSES

. . . In Portugal

Lisbon, Portugal (AP)— Fulgencio Batista, Cuba's fallen dictator, arrived Thursday en route to a new home in exile and put up at a swank hotel.

Batista

He was guarded by swarms of police.

The chartered plane carrying the well-heeled ex-Army sergeant and hs party of 17 flew in from the Dominican Republic, where Batista has an uneasy exile since his fall last Jan. 1.

The dark, stocky little man who once ruled Cuba with an iron hand is expected to spend a few days in Lisbon before proceeding to his new home in exile in the Madeira Islands of Portugal.

While Portugal welcomed Batista, it is understood he has been warned to stay out of politics as long as he is on Portuguese soil.

Met At Airport

Dr. Silva Martins, chief secretary for Foreign Minister Marcello Mathias, met Batista at the airport.

Ranks of police escorted the party to the newly opened Ritz Hotel in downtown Lisbon, Europe's newest luxury hotel.

The party included Batista's New York lawyer Larence Berenson, an unidentified Spaniard, and Cuban followers.

Mrs. Batista, who has been living with her children in Dayton Beach, Fla., since fleeing Cuba, was reported ill. Her attorney there said he had not discussed with her possibilities of joining her husband here.

The 57-year-old Batista who dominated Cuban politics for nearly 25 years, left Ciudad Trujillo Wednesday night, shortly after Washington ended his hopes of going to the United States.

County Farmers Look At No-Guessing Irrigation

Taking the guesswork out of irrigation was demonstrated to Lancaster County farmers Thursday on the Louis Jeffrey farm about 3 miles north of Waverly.

Special emphasis was on the infiltration rate of moisture and its measurement in the session conducted by County Agent Emery Nelson and Paul Fischbach, University of Nebraska extension irrigation specialist.

Of special interest was a tensiometer, consisting of about $4 worth of parts, that measures the amount of force that plants are exerting to pull moisture from the soil.

In short, the instrument tells the farmer when to start or stop watering to insure optimum soil moisture.

The adverse effects of soil compaction on the water intake rate were pointed out.

On the Jeffrey farm, for example, it was shown the rate was only .075 inches of water per hour. Thus about 40 hours would be needed to obtain a 4-inch watering.

Non-compacted soil of the same type could be expected to absorb water at twice the rate.

Fischbach said a "wet May" this year resulted in above-normal soil compaction.

Lancaster County has about 70 irrigation wells, according to Nelson.

Mrs. Traeger Re-Elected By Nebraska MD

Mrs. Marvin Traeger of Fairbury was re-elected president of the Muscular Dystrophy Foundation of Nebraska at the groups annual meeting in Linnoln Thursday.

Also re-elected were Mrs. Clemens Buethe of Elk Creek, vice president; Mrs. Grace Gately of Fairbury, secretary, and Mrs. Alvin Boettcher of Fairbury, treasurer.

Mrs. Traeger gave a report on her trip to the 3-day Muscular Dystrophy Convention in Los Angeles, Calif., in May. Mrs. Traeger reported that the Nebraska Foundation was praised for its incidence survey conducted last year, which was the first one of its kind to be taken.

The Foundation voted to present another research grant to the University of Nebraska Foundation.

Plans were also made, Mrs. Traeger said, to try to keep funds in Nebraska for patient care.

"Let's not let our Nebraska boys be without the care they need," she said. "Muscular Dystrophy can strike anyone."

Barrier Remains Unbroken

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

The great gulf which separates the nations of the world has often been considered possible to bridge through several ways. One way has been through law and a system of international courts which, while still lacking real authority, is in operation today. Possibly an even better bridge might be provided in the field of medicine.

One World In Medicine

Such an effort has been made since 1958 by Sen. Lister Hill, Alabama Democrat, who has a bill in Congress for the second time to establish an Institute of International Medical Research. The bill would provide an annual appropriation of $50 million and the Institute would be under the National Institute of Health. The purpose of the new organization would be simply to promote medical research on an international basis. It would virtually make the world one land in the pursuit of new discoveries for the health of mankind.

But the measure is running into opposition. President Eisenhower wants an open end appropriation —Congress merely establishing a maximum amount which the President can spend at his discretion for the program. Also, he wants the new organization included in the Mutual Security and International Cooperation Administration.

This organization is the one which includes all foreign aid programs — loans, grants, etc. It seems almost incredible that such thinking would prevail on this issue. The Mutual Security program is, at best, a wolf in sheep's clothing. There is not even the hope that the Mutual Security program would bridge the gap between nations.

It is operated on a political basis, aid to those who are friendly to the United States and no aid to those who are not. It necessarily drives Communism and democracy further and further apart. Its purpose is to make democracy the victor over Communism. In this objective, it is a fine program for the U.S. but it should not be confused with something like the Institute of International Medical Research.

The idea of the Institute is not to place any nation in a more favorable position than the other. It is not suggested to gain political advantage in the world struggle today. Its purpose is to promote, through a common interest, better understanding and relationships among all the nations and people of the world.

Certainly, medical research is not basically a thing that can be viewed politically. It concerns the health of all human beings and this is not a political issue. Also, no international research could be carried on with political guidence. This is clearly emphasized by Rep. Kenneth A. Roberts, an Alabama Democrat who fears the administration stand will defeat the bill.

"If foreign policy is to be the consideration in granting of medical research funds," he reasoned, "medical advance would cease to be the aim. Suppose a scientist in Poland were best qualified to conduct a specialized medical research project. Should the needed money go to shore up foreign policy in a friendlier country, say Turkey or France?"

Obviously, to answer that question affirmatively would be ridiculous. The major objective would soon become propaganda for the influencing of others for political gains. The man or woman with cancer in Poland, China, Czechoslovakia or Yugoslavia suffers and dies as a result of his disease just as would the cancer patient in the United States, France or England. Just as disease fails to discriminate within our social order, it fails to recognize any geographic boundaries. Purely and simply, the Institute program just has nothing in common with mutual security.

Objectives Far Apart

Little difference in world affairs will be noticed if the program fails in the House as is expected. And it is possible that if the program were established, its results would be disappointing. And it is a certainty that if the program fails we will save ourselves $50 million a year. But it is also true that we spend billion and billions every year to build up our destructive forces and piteously little on the constructive side.

"Mind You, We're in Favor Of Growth—"

An Encouraging Picture

The series by Don Walton on Lincoln business and industry, ending today in The Star, might be summed up as presenting an encouraging picture. There are some aspects of it which, in themselves, are not good but other factors can offset them. Particularly bright is the report on the way Lincoln has, in the past, sustained temporary business setbacks and gone on to continued growth.

This is a good sign that Lincoln is fundamentally a solid business community and one which will continue to take its share of benefits from the natural increase in national population figures. The one danger in this lies in the possibility of assuming we must grow slowly and, therefore, fail to actively pursue new industry which would bring a spurt in activity.

But so long as this danger is realized, and it is, there is no reason for it to ever materialize. The second most encouraging thing is the fact that the people of the community have their sights set far in the future. There is a definite recognition of shortcomings in the city and while it will be a problem in meeting them, knowledge of their existence is the first and most important order of events.

If Lincoln did not think it needed more and better streets, recreation, resources conservation, social outlets, parking, salesmanship, etc., then the picture would indeed be a black one. None of these things can be provided in a year or two but they will be realized as time and money permits so long as their need is accepted.

The articles, on the whole, give the people of Lincoln much of which to be proud. At the same time, they challenge us all to make an even greater effort if past gains are not to be lost in apathy and ignorance. They clearly show that the future belongs to those who are willing to work and sacrifice for it.

Can't See The Light

The August issue of Foreign Agriculture, a publication of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, tells of a bright new future for the people of northeast Spain.

In Aragon and Navarre there is a $300 million program to bring almost a half million arid acres into intensive, irrigated production. Dams will block major rivers and canals will lead previous water to an area which has been impoverished for generations.

The program is expected to make a substantial improvement to the economy of Spain.

What makes this fine news even more interesting is that most of the $300 million will be paid for out of U.S. resources. Some of it is coming from grants by the U.S. International Co-operation Administration. And a substantial portion will be provided under Public Law 480. This law permits U.S. food surpluses to be sold abroad for credits in the recipient country's money. These credits can be invested in programs to improve that country's economy.

Most Americans will approve this constructive use of foreign aid in Spain. But it is puzzling to reconcile the administration's pride in overseas reclamation, while standing stoutly against new starts in the same field at home.

Three hundred million in reclamation would transport the Nebraska economy to a fabulous level.

It is true that Spain is underfed and that the U.S. has certain food products in oppressive surplus. A non-penetrating argument might be made of the unwisdom of further aggravating a surplus by heightening productivity here. But such an argument cannot stand.

It is the areas of relatively low rainfall that produce such a surplus of American wheat But those areas are committed to wheat production because there is no economic alternative. Reclamation and irrigation releases such areas to profitable diversification. This in itself would have a powerful relieving effect on the nation's unbalanced farm production. Lacking it the nation is being required to pay billions, mainly for shortsightedness.

Won't Alter The Facts

The decision of President Eisenhower to address an appeal to the American public for a less costly wheat program is being greeted with mixed feelings.

The subject of his appeal—namely a successful program which would cost less while coping with the increasing surplus—is one which should get wholesale endorsement. Who wants an aggravated problem at a mounting cost?

But such a provocative title hides some stark facts which suggest that the appeal will be neither realistic nor reflective of the actual record.

It is assumed that the President will chide the Congress for nonconstructive treatment of the farm problem. And it is also expected that he will ask for still lower price supports and less restraint on production.

This has been the administration's refrain for seven years.

If Congress has not yielded totally to the administration's demand for total withdrawal from the farm problem, it has yielded sufficiently to measure the impractibility of the administration's "cut-em-off at the pockets" doctrine.

As price supports have been lowered and planting allowances have been liberalized, neither open market prices nor oversupplies have responded wholesomely. Indeed surpluses have steadily risen and so has the public investment. From this it would seem that had Congress yielded fully to the administration's demand the situation would be much worse than it is. Its position has been akin to a householder struggling with arson in his kitchen refusing to fight the limited fire by putting the torch to the whole place.

On the basis of fact the Congress is to be chided for not overruling the entire administration proposition, replacing it with a farm remedy of its own original conception which would bring some order out of this present unhappy chaos.

As it now stands the failure belongs to the administration. If it has been unable to dump the blame onto the farmer, there is no more reason why it should try to make the Congress the fall guy.

Southern Solons Slow Civil Rights

WASHINGTON — Sen. Tom Hennings of Missouri, whose great-grandfather owned more slaves than any other plantation owner in Georgia and whose grandfather was an officer in the Confederate army, has been waging a quiet, frustrating drive to put across a civil rights bill at this session of Congress. Up until this week he was extremely patient.

For over a month Hennings has been presiding over the Judiciary Subcommittee considering a civil rights bill. But Southern senators have stalled. They have been polite, good-humored, effective. Sen. Sam Ervin of North Carolina has quoted at length some Aesop's fables and recited biblical quotations from Nicodemus, the Pharisee who came to Jesus in the night to question him about his miracles.

During one of the last closed-door committee sessions, when Hennings moved to speed up the civil rights bill, Senator Ervin asked delay in order to read the record.

"Will the senator from North Carolina change his mind if he reads the record?" asked the senator from Missouri. "He's read most of it anyway. He made most of it with his own testimony. Will re-reading it change his position even an inch?

"Is he like Joseph Smith, waiting to receive the word from the Angel Monroni?" continued Hennings, referring to the Mormon angel who appeared before the Prophet Joseph Smith in a vision.

"I've learned Aesop's fables by heart. I've heard the senator extol the virtues of Nicodemus. I'm quite sure he was a great man. But he's been dead many years and it's time to take up the present. I move that we terminate our hearings now."

When there was further objection, the grandson of the pre-civil war slave-holder finally bypassed his committee and introduced the civil rights bill as an amendment to a minor Senate bill from the Government Operations Committee.

Note — Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas has stated that a civil rights bill will be passed before Congress adjourns.

Minnesota's Senator Hubert Humphrey, who spent eight hours with Premier Khrushchev in the Kremlin, telephoned Vice President Nixon after his return from visiting with Khrushchev.

DORIS FLEESON

Rockefeller Hand Is Being Forced

WASHINGTON — Governor Nelson Rockefeller's problem at this point seems to be that the untidy business of politics will not wait upon his orderly deliberations. He is a candidate for president and he planned to reveal the news in his own good time, probably November.

Vice-President Richard Nixon has forced the pace, and would-be supporters of Rockefeller want reassurances that are both firm and immediate. All over the country there are people who are convinced that a new FRBC is in the making and they want to be included.

These initials, which were the best magic of all in the alphabet-laden New Deal, were coined by James A. Farley to describe the men and women who came out for Franklin Roosevelt before the 1932 Democratic convention in Chicago. They signified, of course, "For Roosevelt before Chicago." They may or may not have been a high honor, depending on one's point of view, but they carried privileges which Farley scrupulously fulfilled to the best of his ability.

It so happens that Republicans will name their national ticket in Chicago next year. Would-be members of "For Rockefeller Before Chicago" consider it much more important that they have a governor of New York, as Roosevelt was. California is gaining fast, but New York in 1960 will still have the biggest delegations at both national conventions.

Despite his good press and with a romantic assist from his son, Steven, and Anne Marie Rasmussen, Rockefeller made mistakes at the governors' conference in Puerto Rico. The pros got far too strong a whiff of the amateur in politics — an aroma they consider only slightly less fatal than South American arrow poison.

The governor did not take with him a sharp political adviser or a public relations man who knew the Washington correspondents. Instead, he tried to keep his party a personal one and, in particular, turned up with one of the original Wendell Willkie enthusiasts, Oren Root. It may be presumed that Root has learned much since 1940, but he has not been in politics and his name recalls to press and politicians a campaign that was lively and colorful but singularly devoid of practicality.

Lacking sound press advice, Rockefeller has found himself in the position of appearing to feel that the presidency is the plaything of public opinion polls. Reporters are justified in their stories which came from the horse's mouth, but they are not what the governor intended.

Since then, this has been brought home to him in anxious conferences in Albany and New York. Also, Nixon, who knows an opening when he sees it, has virtuously explained that he does not regard the presidency as a popularity contest.

To a degree, Rockefeller has been handicapped by the illness of his old and trusted aide, Frank Jamison, a former Pulitzer prize-winning reporter. Jamison has recovered but is taking the summer rest ordered by his doctor. He can be expected to be in the middle of the outburst of political activity which is now being scheduled in Albany.

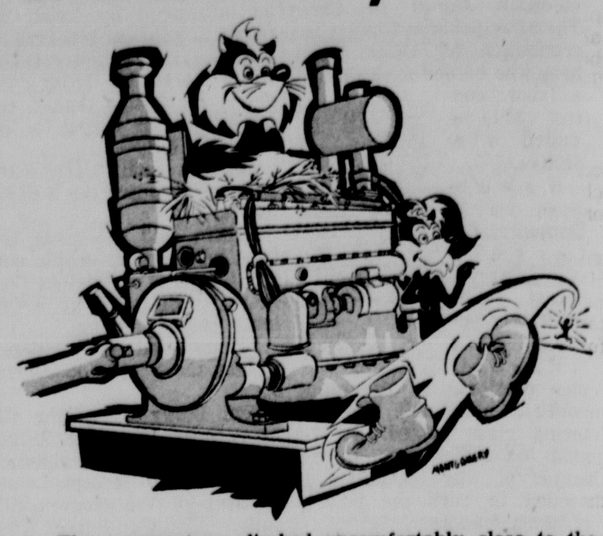

The fact is that no new political geniuses are in sight in the camp of any candidate for president, and the current bidding is high for any that even show promise.

THE NEIGHBORS SAY

The Cricket Lullaby

By MONA B. PARKER

The temperature climbed uncomfortably close to the century mark in the Polk neighborhood for several days, setting farmers there to making ready their irrigation pumps and equipment. Lloyd Hahn pulled the tarp cover off his irrigation motor, and will remember the day for some aromatic time to come. A nest of civet cats had taken over the spot for their nest and were quick in their defense of home grounds. Reported the Polk Progress: "We don't know whether or not Lloyd has gone back to his irrigation motor since."

The Imperial Republican was doing a little advance dreaming of things to come. Editor J. C. Naylor was dwelling gleefully on the fact that a big political campaign should be in full swing about a year hence . . .

"We can hardly wait, especially if both parties and all the candidates will just pay plenty of attention to building up big advertising funds."

Ethel Comstock of the Orleans Chronicle apparently believes in the old advice to join 'em if you can't lick 'em. Crickets have taken over Orleans this summer, she says, both indoors and out. She heard one in a downtown store that nearly drowned out the sound of a juke box nearby. She could find herself some stout argument there about picking your sound-poison . . .

You have to be mighty quick on the fly swatter to do any good, she complains, and those outside meanwhile take up the clarion call . . .

"One may as well give up and be lulled to sleep by their special brand of music."

Dorothy Payne had amused sympathy in the Hooper Sentinel for the mother whose young daughter brought the news: "Mom, Skip fell off the roof and he's just laying there."

She's had her share, too, she says. A tack that went into her foot full length, a foot scraper that went the full depth into her leg, a broken arm that had to be set twice, tonsils and major surgery three times.

"I know doctors have to live, too, but after all!"

Cary Reynolds of the Curtis Enterprise was doing a bit of reminiscing about the coming of commercial cereals to the market, and when the older folk soaked whole grains of wheat overnight, boiled them tender, and served them with milk and sugar. Then there was corncob syrup. Red cobs were broken up, boiled in a copper kettle, strained, cobs discarded, sugar added, and the mixture boiled again. She described the extraction as tasting something like maple syrup.

A large iron cooking pot was a part of each kitchen, to use for roasts and vegetables. A copper or brass kettle was kept for fruit or butter or anything with acid in the juice.

Under the supervision of the Fish and Wildlife Service, full war with the purpose of complete eradication has been declared on the little creatures, and anyone with information on location of their "towns" is being requested to relay such information to the county clerk's office at Springview.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Labor Reforms Split Demos

WASHINGTON — No matter what the final outcome in the dispute between House and Senate over labor reform legislation the political wounds opened in the Democratic party will be long in healing. The result, it is generally agreed, has been to widen the split between the liberal-labor wing and the conservative southern wing of the party.

A smouldering resentment remains, with the unhappy conviction that presidential ambitions took precedence over the welfare of the party. As to the welfare of the nation, it was obscured by the fierce, knife-throwing factionalism that tore the House apart as the "tough" Landrum-Griffin bill was passed.

Politically speaking, it now appears that if a labor bill is finally adopted at this session—coming out of the Senate-House Conference — the credit will go largely to Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, the majority leader. To put it another way, the leading Democratic presidential aspirant in the Senate, Senator John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, will get at best a mark of passing on labor legislation.

The suspicion is strongly in the House that Johnson planned it that way. If the Kennedy-Irvin bill as approved by the Senate had been matched by a moderate bill in the House, then Jack Kennedy would properly have been identified as the father of labor reform.

The suspicion of Lyndon Johnson goes to the fact that 17 of the 21 Democrats from Texas in the House voted for Landrum-Griffin. At the same time they were, in effect, voting against their leader, Speaker Sam Rayburn, who had staked his reputation and prestige on stopping the so-called tough bill and putting over the moderate Elliott bill. A switch of 15 votes would have killed Landrum-Griffin. Why, House members who got badly battered in the fight are asking, could not the great and powerful Lyndon Johnson have exercised some authority with the delegation from his own state?

It must be said, however, that opinion in Texas tends to be strongly anti-labor, and the volume of mail pouring in on Texas congressmen was overwhelmingly for a "strong" bill. While Johnson may in the end appear as a hero to the conservative right, he has not advanced his chances for the presidential nomination.

If organized labor made just about every mistake that could be made, overplaying the hand in an outrageous way, the northern wing of the party with its strong labor element will nevertheless have at least a veto at next year's Democratic convention. The Republican-Southern Democratic coalition with Texas in the vanguard, so ably led by Republican Leader Charles Halleck, has left an indelible mark.

When the shouting of the victors has died down, the effect of this coalition on political fortunes next year may be more significant than anything else to come out of the controversy. By their victory the Republicans blunted an issue which in the past they have exploited to the hilt — the charge that organized labor runs Congress and dictates the kind of legislation that is to be passed.

Not only President Eisenhower, who will not be running for office next year, but Vice-President Richard Nixon, campaigning for the presidency, and his closest allies in the government did yeoman work for a victory that the National Association of Manufacturers claims as its own. Nixon met wavering Republican congressmen at breakfast on the morning of the test. His able and loyal lieutenant, Attorney General William Rogers, provided help in the big administration push.

It may be, of course, that the crime and corruption exposed by the McClellan committee had conditioned the public, including many trade union members, to accept what has been widely propagandized as a strong bill. But, quite possibly, there may be some early disillusion over just what has been achieved.

The comment of James R. Hoffa of the Teamsters Union, target of the most violent feeling, should not be overlooked. Hoffa said that with only minor changes his union could live with the bill passed by the House.

This bears out what Senator Kennedy has been saying about the "tough" Landrum-Griffin bill. That is, that it will not substantially affect the big, powerful labor unions such as the Auto Workers and the Teamsters. But it penalizes smaller unions and the task of organizing, particularly in the South, will be all but impossible.

Perhaps, in view of this, the laurels of victory now being distributed will fade rather rapidly. By 1960 they may be as dust and ashes.

Little People

Lincoln, Neb.

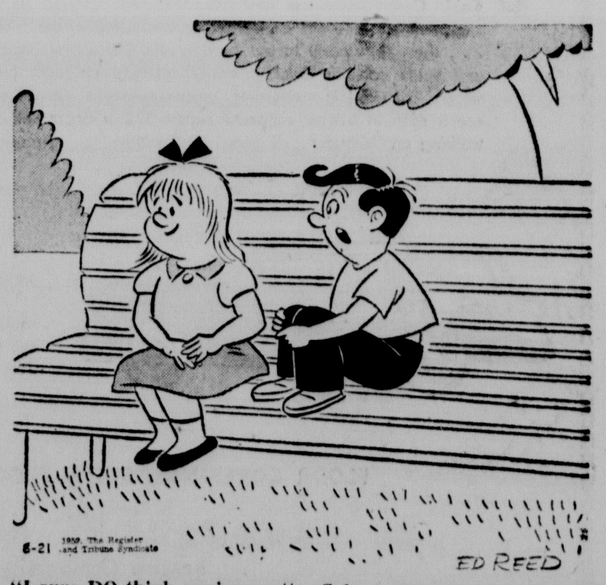

It is probably expecting too much for all of us to find some enlightenment in the blackout that struck New York this week as a result of a power failure. But we should see in this that we are not such a big and important people after all.

The power goes off and we are hardly able to exist. We die because there is no air conditioning against the heat, we have to walk upstairs instead of taking the elevator, our appliances won't work, etc.

It is a tribute to us that we have been able to develop all of these things for our convenience and welfare but we are still at the mercy of God. It doesn't take much to upset us and leave in a state of terror. Somewhere along the line, the New York experience should make us a little more humble.

New Consolidated School For County To Be Discussed

The possible formation of a consolidated high school in southern Lancaster County, a plan which has been talked about for several years, will be discussed at a meeting Tuesday.

The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. on the 3rd floor of the County Courthouse, according to Jerome Warner, chairman of the county reorganization committee.

Warner said that citizens groups from Firth, Holland, Hickman, Panama and Bennet will attend the meeting to talk over the possibility of forming such a high school.

Make Up Own Minds

Warner said that these committees, which are either formed or in the process of getting started, will "study the problem and make up their own mind."

"We don't want committees that will be rubber stamps," he said.

"If these people will just take a good look at the situation and come up with a good central school, they could have as good a school as any in the state," said Melvin P. Olson, school administration consultant for the State Dept. of Education.

Reasons

Olson said that these schools should reorganize because:

—There are more schools in Lancaster County operating on only an approved basis than in any other county in the state.

—Lancaster has more high school districts than any other in the state except Gage County.

—Of the 10 high school districts, only Lincoln and Waverly have accredited schools.

—The fact that 5 of these schools are in a relatively-small cluster in the southern part of the county. They are Firth, Panama, Bennet, Hickman and Sprague-Martell.

Olson explained that accredited schools not only meet state requirements, but voluntarily go beyond and meet standards higher than those set by the state accreditation committee. Approved schools are those which meet all legal requirements of the state department.

"Maybe a lot of good instruction is going on in these schools," Olson said, "but it's important for students in any of these districts to go to accredited schools."

Warner noted that Princeton, Sprague-Martell and Roca have also expressed interest in possible redistricting, and added that "the only boundary limits are the ones which are practical from the standpoint of distance."

Location Not Known

An exact location for a consolidated school, Warner said, could not be determined until a new district was formed by residents of the area.

But such a school would probably be centrally located within 8 miles of all district boundaries, and could have a valuation of $7-10 million, he said.

"But it's up to the people to decide what they want to do," Warner said.

UAW Official Claims He Had To Donate To PAC

...As Sen. Curtis Runs Rackets Probe

Washington (UPI) — A former United Auto Workers official told the Senate Rackets Committee Thursday that he had to make regular contributions to the union's political action fund in order to hold his job.

The witness, Jess F. Motsinger of Detroit, said the union deducted $2 a week from his paycheck for the old UAW-CIO Political Action Committee (PAC), which then made contributions to various candidates for political office.

Asked whether his contributions to the fund were voluntarily—as required by law—Motsinger snorted that they were "about as voluntary as a traffic ticket."

He said "I know what would happen" if he didn't contribute.

'Filibuster'

The politically-explosive inquiry produced partisan fireworks within minutes after the hearing began, with Sen. Carl T. Curtis (R-Neb.) accusing Democrats of staging a "continuous filibuster."

Kennedy, charging that the inquiry was inadequately prepared by GOP Counsel Robert Manuel, retorted that he would not be shut off in trying to get the facts.

Curtis, who is directing the inquiry, also clashed with UAW attorney Joseph Rauh, who charged that previous closed-door witnesses made "perjurious assertions against our union."

Motsinger said he made $5-a-week contributions to an intra-union political chest, known as the "flower fund," in addition to the amount he paid into the political action fund.

Thank You

He said UAW Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazey wrote him in 1954 that he might receive thank-you letters from some candidates who received PAC contributions because they would be listed as coming from individuals.

Motsinger said he later got a letter from former Sen. Guy Gillette (D-Ia) thanking him for a $10 contribution.

He said he was never asked if he wanted to contribute to Gillette or any other candidate and would have preferred that his money go to some candidate in his home state of Michigan.

Church said there was no "Hokus-pokus" about the pac and that Motsinger must have known how his contributions would be used. Motsinger agreed this was the case.

Appeals Filed On Rail Commission Hearing Decisions

Two recent decisions of the Nebraska Railway Commission were appealed to the State Supreme Court Thursday.

Notices of appeal were filed by a Hebron group against an order closing the Hebron railroad station, and by a group south of Lincoln concerning an order on telephone service.

The Hebron Chamber of Commerce and the Hebron Industrial Development Corporation appealed from a commission decision June 12 granting the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad Co. and the Railway Express Agency the authority to discontinue the agency at Hebron and retire the depot.

The objectors' motion for a rehearing was overruled July 28.

In another action, Elmer Block, Merle Wilhelm, and the Roca Elevator Co. appealed from a commission decision ordering the Capitol Telephone Co. to provide service to them where the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co. and the Martell Telephone Co. had previously served them.

The objectors' motion for a rehearing was overruled July 28.

Rebels Fan Out In Laos

All-Out Offensive By Reds Expected

Vientiane, Laos (AP) — Communist propaganda and sabotage teams were reported spreading through southern Laos Thursday and rebel units in the north appeared to be preparing for an all-out offensive.

Defense Secretary Col. Phoumi Nasavan said the rebels in the southern provinces were mostly political and sabotage teams sent to undermine the pro-Western government and spread propaganda.

Earlier the government made the surprising announcement that Red guerrillas are operating now in 6 provinces, some as far south as the south Viet Nam border.

The skirmishing that flared last month in two northern provinces—Sam Neua and Phong Saly—threatens to spread to warfare over a 500-mile line.

Government Losing Men

Further, military reports from the north said the rebels, through specialists in hit-and-run tactics, are holding a fifth of Sam Neua province. These advises said the government is losing men daily in patrol clashes.

Sam Neua Province adjoins Communist North Viet Nam, which Laos charges has trained, armed and equipped border tribesmen for the uprising. Red China backs the action with its propaganda guns.

Man-to-man, the rebels would not have a chance in regular battle, the army of Laos believes. But that isn't the way they fight. They were authoritatively estimated to number only 3,500, against 25,000 in the American-equipped Laotian army.

The general staff said the Communists have used the relative quiet of the last two weeks to reinforce and resupply the guerrilla battalions.

Fire Prober Martin New Warm-Air Heating Inspector

Harold J. Martin, presently chief fire inspector, has been named to the city's new post of warm air heating inspector and will begin his new duties soon after Sept. 1.

Martin

City Building Inspector Ed Vorhees said Thursday that Martin is retiring from the city fire department to accept the new post.

Martin, 47, has been with the fire department since 1937 and has been fire inspector since 1952. With 21 years of service completed, he has been eligible to retire at half-pay for the past several months.

After Sept. 1, Martin will be eligible for retirement pay of $211.25 per month as compared with the present $196.50.

This is because the fire inspector post now pays $382.50, but goes to $422.50 on Sept. 1 when the $40 increase approved for fire and police salaries becomes effective, according to personnel officials.

The city personnel office said Martin will be paid $365 per month in the warm air heating inspector post and will be eligible for increases totalling $35 during the next 3 years.

The new inspector post was created by the City Council recently in the warm air heating ordinance providing for installation permits, licensing of contractors, and a minimum standards code for installations.

City officials say the warm air inspection program will be self-supporting from permit and license fees.

Roscoe Benton, assistant fire inspector, is expected to succeed to the chief inspector's post upon Martin's retirement.

Honeymooning Bride Stabbed By A Youth, 13

New Salem State Park, Ill. (UPI)—A minister's 13-year-old son crept into a women's bathhouse at this Lincoln shrine Thursday and drove a knife into the chest of a honeymooning bride.

Glen Sampson, son of the Rev. Orval Sampsor of the Congregational Church of Hart, Mich., was arrested less than 3 hours after the attack on Mrs. Bruce Brainard, 25, of Hamden, Conn.

Glen, a cleancut boy whose brown hair is trimmed in a crew cut, admitted it was he who stabbed the blonde bride and ran, giggling, from the bathhouse.

Sheriff Harry Carter said Glen told a state trooper "it was fun and I would do it again."

Sampson Car Halted

Police, suspicious because Glen was the only camper who appeared undisturbed by the stabbing, arrested him as he drove with his mother and father through nearby Williamsville, Ill.

His mother cried, "He's always been a good boy, we never had any trouble with him. I keep asking myself what went wrong—what, when, why."

Glen's knife pierced the right chest of the attractive bride, who was a nurse until her marriage 12 days ago.

Mrs. Brainard bled profusely, but her wound was not serious. After treatment by a doctor, she returned to the park with her husband, a 27-year-old engineer. They planned to resume their honeymoon trip Friday.

As for Glen, State's Attorney John Grosboll said a charge of delinquency would be filed against him. He will undergo a psychiatric examination at Godfrey, Ill., Grosboll said, and authorities will decide afterwards whether to add a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

Sheriff Carter said Glen showed no sign of remorse and was so obviously pleased with the attention he was getting that he once burst into song.

"He told us he would go through it all again for this part of it," Carter said.

Walter was an unsuccessful Democratic candidate for District Court clerk in 1958 and was a write-in candidate for mayor of Lincoln last spring.

He has two children and has been active in PTA and youth work.

Vigilance Price Of Liberty–Srb

"Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty," Clerk of the Legislature Hugo Srb told members of the Beatrice Kiwanis Club, and in Srb's opinion, the Nebraska's legislative system is one of the best checks possible on governmental processes.

Terming it a "more deliberate body" than most state legislatures, Srb noted that Nebraska's lawmaking body meets for 6 months whereas many states have only 60-day sessions.

He lauded the new rule change which will enlarge committee memberships to 9 from the present 7 members, and said it should bring "better consideration" of bills which should lead to more selective deliberation on the floor.

Noting also the economy features of Nebraska's one-house legislative system, Srb explained that it took almost 20 years for the unicameral Legislature to equal the same cost as the last two-house Legislature in the state.

Dr. Andrews Back From Quake Site

"It was a frightening experience," stated Dr. Clayton F. Andrews after he and his wife returned from Butte, Mont., where they were in the midst of the recent Montana earthquake.

Dr. Andrews and Mrs. Andrews were staying at the Hotel Finlen in Butte, when the earthquake occurred.

"At about midnight," recalled Dr. Andrews, "The hotel swayed and rocked. People were up all night. There were 5 quakes, the last coming at 8:30 a.m.

"Damage was extensive with a large share of it in the Butte area," said Dr. Andrews.

Dr. Andrews, who in July was elected Imperial Potentate of the Ancient and Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, was visiting the Butte Shrine Temple in his official capacity.

Margaret 29 Friday

By Eddy Gilmore

London (AP) — Princess Margaret begins Friday one of the most significant years of her life—the year in which she'll say farewell to her 20s.

Friday is the bachelor princess' 29th birthday.

If she's still unmarried when that next anniversary rolls around, Margaret can no longer escape the tag of old maid.

She plans to spend the day at Balmoral Castle in Scotland.

"Nothing special is being planned," said a Buckingham Palace spokesman. "It will just be a family birthday."

There Will Be Gifts

This means presents from her sister, Queen Elizabeth II, her brother-in-law-prince Philip, her mother, the Queen Mother Elizabeth, and her royal nephew and niece, Prince Charles and Princess Anne.

If the weather is good—and that's the prediction — Margaret may have a picnic amid the scenic moors of the Balmoral estate.

There'll be a birthday cake, of course, but Buckingham Palace could give no assurance that it would be adorned with 29 candles.

"That's a private matter between the princess and the cake," the spokesman said.

STOCKS MAKE BIGGEST GAIN IN 20 MONTHS

New York (AP) — The Stock Market scored a 4-billion-dollar advance Thursday — its biggest gain in nearly 21 months.

Strong demand for steel shares provided most of the spark.

Many traders liked Labor Secretary Mithcell's statement that the two sides in the steel strike could reach an early settlement if they worked at it hard enough.

A rise of $3 in the Associated Press 60-stock average indicated a total gain of nearly 4 billion dollars in the quoted value of all stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

This was the market's sharpest climb since Nov. 27, 1957, when it was announced that President Eisenhower had recovered from a mild stroke.

The Associated Press average closed Thursday at $230.30. The Dow Jones industrials average closed at 655.02, up 8.49.

They Planned A Happy Vacation, But Death Followed To The Camp

Coeur d'Alene, Idaho (AP) — Purley Bennett and 3 of his young children, who left here last Sunday for a happy vacation in Montana, came home in death Thursday, victims of the mountainous river country they went to enjoy.

Bennett, a 43-year-old truck driver, and the children were among the 9 persons known killed in the earthquake disaster in southwestern Montana.

Their pastor, the Rev. Jack Hawthorne of the Church of the Nazarene, brought back the bodies and made plans for the final services.

Bennett, his wife Irene, 41, and the children—Carole, 17, Phillip, 15, Tom, 10, and Susan, 5—had arrived at their vacation spot along the Madison River Monday evening.

It was a nice night and they decided not to put up the tent. Instead, they spread it on the ground for their sleeping bags. Four hours later, the earthquake brought down the mountain.

The Bennett campsite was thrown through the air. Mrs. Bennett saw her husband grab for a tree. She never saw him again.

Phillip and his mother were thrown into the river.

He heard her calling at daylight and reached her side. Only they had survived. The father and the other children were dead of drowning. Mrs. Bennett and Phillip were rescued.

Sad Visit

The Rev. Hawthorne visited with them in an Ennis, Mont., hospital before returning here with the bodies.

"I braced myself before meeting them," he said, "not knowing how I could comfort them. When I left, I knew they had comforted me.

"They have accepted the tragedy with the most spectacular example of confidence in God that I have ever seen.

"Phillip is only 15 and he lay along that river all night in great pain with a broken leg. But he told me, 'I prayed and my faith in God grew as the night passed.'"

LAFB Foreman Gets Top Award

His suggestion of a portable supply case containing 100 separate parts which could be carried to any job netted him an award of $210 and a saving for the Air Force totaling $7,305.

Ronald C. Knippel, machinist-welder, was awarded a total of $130 for 6 of his suggestions which were accepted and adopted. His suggestions saved the Air Force $1,828.

Marshall Hits 'Inference' By Campbell

Charles Marshall, president of the Nebraska Farm Bureau, said Thursday he challenges the "inference" of Dean S. Campbell, president of the Nebraska Citizen's Council, that "the council could speak for agricultural people of the state on tax matters."

Marshall said the history of the council has been dominated by a general philosophical approach of the railroads to taxation policy.

"The proposed appointment of Leonard Bronder as state tax commissioner," Marshall said . . . "would not change tax leadership" but . . . "would tend to confirm the contention of many that the executive director of the Nebraska Citizen's Council has in effect been and would continue to be the state tax commissioner."

He said actions of the Legislature and the establishment of state property levy by the Board of Equalization confirmed an earlier prediction that the dollar cost of government would increase without effectively distributing the burden more fairly.

Marshall suggested the council provide for its financing by direct voluntary payment of dues by its members "if it wanted to enter the area of influencing public opinion legitimately and fairly."

Locke Honored By Antioch Memorial

A memorial to Walter Locke, senior editor of the Dayton, O., Daily News at the time of his death in the fall of 1957, will be established at Antioch College with a $5,000 gift from the editor's widow.

Locke, a former Lincoln editor, was a long time member of Antioch's board of trustees.

Major portion of the funds will be used to establish a book collection in Mr. Locke's name in the Kettering library on the Antioch campus. Francis P. Locke, son of the late editor, said the gift honors a wish expressed informally by his father. Francis Locke is associate editor of the Dayton News.

Stan Delaplane's POSTCARD

The town of Villerville-sur-mer is one of those little French seaside resorts that looks like a stage set. Narrow, winding streets. The boy riding the bicycle with a two-foot loaf of unwrapped bread. The gendarme at the tiny cross street.

It is only a few miles from elegant Deauville. But our town is so small that local advertising is done by a town crier — a moustached veteran who beats on a drum before he cries the news.

The beach is full of girls in bikini bathing suits.

We have a small casino with one roulette wheel.

The Hotel Chez Mahu rates one star with Michelin for its cuisine. And we dine in a courtyard shaded with Normandy apple trees.

☆ ☆ ☆

All is not apple blossoms in this French Garden of Eden. I have come down with a case of mushrooms.

That is what the French doctor said when I went to see him.

Apparently I got it in Russia — what a way to run a cold war! I came out with small brown spots on the sole of one foot. Only ONE foot.

The doctor looked at it and he looked quite pleased.

"Champignons," he said. "It comes in the summer."

"Champignons?"

"Ah, oui. Champignons. From the heat. Not serious. It will go away in a few days."

Just to be sure, I asked him to show it to me in the dictionary.

Mushrooms, sure enough. I suppose that is a very good ailment in such a culinary country. But it makes me feel foolish.

☆ ☆ ☆

My shorts have come back from the French laundry. They are pleated. They ironed pleats in them.

Mushrooms on my foot and pleated drawers. What chic! I feel positively perfumed.

☆ ☆ ☆

Aly Khan is at Deauville. Last night I went over to see him drop a few thousand in the Casino. But I was only allowed to press my nose against the glass.

It seems that after 10 o'clock you must be in evening squares. I did not bring a dinner jacket and am not allowed to rub Brooks Bros. elbows with the quality.

This is a curious rule. Because the dress on the beach is startling.

I do not mean the bikinis — if a lady had mushrooms anywhere on her, you would not have to guess. I mean the gentlemen who wear evening dress at night.

☆ ☆ ☆

We have one antique gentleman who wears baggy, blue shorts. He also wears a double-breasted blue coat with a handkerchief pointing out of the breast pocket.

He wears a polka dot Ascot tie. But no shirt!

On top of his head he wears a white sailor hat. The same kind of sailor hat they issue in the American Navy. He is a gaudy sight on the board walk.

We also have a gentleman who looks like Maurice Chevalier. He wears an expensive gray suit. His tie is lifted from the shirt collar by a gold clasp. He wears an English derby and carries a furled umbrella.

He is a picture of splendid dress. Until you get down to his knees.

He rolls his pants up to the knee and walks around barefoot.

☆ ☆ ☆

I am wearing a modest and subdued aloha shirt I bought in Honolulu. It has short sleeves and no elbows. So naturally I cannot rub elbows with Aly Khan.

Pleated shorts and mushrooms on my foot. And still I cannot get into the Casino. How about that?

RAILWAY COMMISSION OKAYS NEW RATE ON MEAT PRODUCTS

The State Railway Commission Thursday authorized the West Nebraska Express, Scottsbluff, to establish a commodity rate on meat and packing house products from Scottsbluff and Gering to Omaha.

The rate is effective Sept. 10. It calls for a rate of 85 cents per hundredweight on a minimum of 25,000 pounds. 80 cents per cwt. on a 30,000 pound minimum and 75 cents per cwt. on a 35,000 minimum.

The commission authorized all railriads to establish a charge of $17 per car for stopover privileges. The charge is effective Aug. 23.

The Burlington Railroad was authorized to establish a switching charge of $30 a car for switching between certain points in the Lincoln yard limits. The charge also is effective Aug. 23.

Hearings scheduled for next week by the commission:

Wednesday — An application by the Chicago and North Western Railroad to discontinue caretaker service and retire station facilities at Bennington will be heard at Fremont.

Thursday — an application by the Burlington to discontinue its agency at Dalton and substitute a custodian will be heard at Sidney.

Friday — An application by the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co., Lincoln, to issue and sell securities will be heard at Lincoln.

File To Incorporate

Articles of incorporation for two firms were filed Thursday by two Scottsbluff residents. The incorporators of both were Earl I. Mead and John H. Mead. The firms were the Mead Land and Cattle Co., with authorization for $300,000 capital stock, and the Mead Feed Corp., with authorization for $250,000 in capital stock.

Quaker starts with the good protein-rich oat grains. Spins them into tiny, bite-sized pieces of shredded oats. No cereal gives you more protein. Life gives you, too, 100% of your daily need of 3 essential vitamins, plus 6 more important vitamins and minerals. Have some tomorrow!

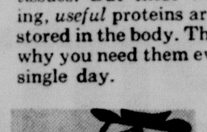

WHAT A DIFFERENCE IN PROTEIN...

Some proteins are "lazy." They just can't build up your body because they don't have the right amount of certain essential protein elements.

Some proteins are "hard working." They build, repair and maintain body tissues. But these working, useful proteins aren't stored in the body. That's why you need them every single day.

LIFE gives you "working" protein. The useful kind of protein. Even before you add milk, LIFE's protein is 100% as useful as the protein in meat and milk!

State May Not Need 2nd Brood Corn Borer Control

University of Nebraska entomologists report that second brood European corn borer control probably will not be necessary in most areas of Nebraska.

Light second brood moth flights and slight egg deposits on corn have been observed in most areas, Dr. Gerald Weekman, assistant entomologist at the College of Agriculture, said.

In most fields, he said, there is little danger from second brood borers.

Last year, infestations from the second brood ran as high as 100 per cent in the Platte River valley and eastern Nebraska, Dr. Weekman said.

"Light second brood infestations are due mainly to the late planting of corn this spring. The corn was not up high enough for the first brood to deposit eggs in June, thereby cutting down on second brood numbers," he said.

No egg masses have been found on corn that has finished pollination, he said.

Because of the last few weeks of hot, dry weather the period of pollination was very short and most of the corn had finished pollination before peak second brood moth flights, he said.

Not Indication

Even though infestations are light this summer, it is not an indication of the populations which will be present next year, Weekman observed.

Increase in populations of 30 to 40 and even up to 50-fold have occurred from year to year, he said.

The only egg masses observed were found in northeast Nebraska on very late planted corn which was just beginning to silk, extension entomologist Robert E. Roselle said.

No general control recommendations can be justified at this time, Roselle said. However, some very late planted fields may have enough corn borer activity to justify control.

Feeling Fit as a Fiddle? Dr. Walter C. Alvarez' column "Medical Round-up" appearing in The Sunday Journal and Star gives sound advice on how to keep healthy.

HALF OF NEBRASKA NURSING, AGED HOMES ARE LESS THAN 5 YEARS OLD

Almost half of the nursing homes and homes for the aged and infirmed in Nebraska are less than five years old, a health department survey of patient care showed.

The fewest number of homes are between five and 10 years old. The next largest number in operation are 10 years or older, the survey showed.

The survey found 2,165 men and 3,502 women in residence in the homes.

The majority of residents who answered questionnaires of the survey team stated they felt well cared for and happy.

"This speaks very well for the type of care given in these homes," the report said.

Majority Cooperative

The report noted it was impossible to interview residents in a few homes because of the attitude of the operators but the vast majority of operators were cooperative in the survey.

Among the recommendations of the advisory committee were:

—Need for continuous medical supervision, uniformity of medical reports and signed medical orders by physician.

—Help in nursing techniques, better orientation for new personnel, better nursing records.

More Aid Needed

—More assistance needed in basic nutrition needs and food preparation.

—Cost accounting should be established since few homes were able to present actual costs.

—Improvement in home sanitation.

—Improvement needed in accident and fire prevention.

—Classification of nursing homes and definition of types of care needed by residents.

—Help to aid patients in legal problems.

—Need for improved personnel policies.

—Better uses of volunteers, more planned activities needed and better use of existing supplies and equipment could be achieved. 7

Guests, Brides, Parties In The News

—The news this morning revolves around guests—guest courtesies, and brides-elect who, naturally, also are the incentives for parties.

And then there are those cases where guests and brides-elect have a mutual interest — a wedding. The specific instance we have in mind is the wedding of Miss Sandra Schlaebitz and Harry F. Dingman, Jr., on Saturday and the many guests who are arriving to attend the ceremony.

Included among the out-of-towners will be Mr. and Mrs. Val Anderson and their sons, Stephen, Craig and David, of Avoca, Ia; Dr. and Mrs. Bruce V. Andersen of Greene, Ia; Dr. and Mrs. Martin Rusker of Sabetha, Kan; Lt. and Mrs. Jack Clark of Madison, Wis; Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Dingman and their children Sharlet and Tony, of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Gibson of Kansas City; Mrs. J. A. Bastron of Bayard; Mrs. Russell Ramsey and family of Tecumseh, and Miss Katherine Follmer of Oak.

—This morning we learned of a courtesy for Miss Ann Dinwoodie of Salt Lake City who is the house guest of Miss Zoya Zeman and Miss Zeman's parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. D. Zeman.

On Friday evening the visitor from Utah will be complimented by Miss Nancy Eager who has invited a small group of guests for an informal supper at her home.

* * *

—The final courtesy for Miss Joyce Brigham, whose marriage to Joseph H. Badami will take place next Thursday, will be on Wednesday evening, Aug. 26, when the bride-elect's parents, Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Brigham honor their daughter and her fiance at dinner at Hotel Cornhusker. The guest list will include members of the families and the bridal party.

* * *

—One of our September brides-elect is Miss Sandra Johns who has chosen Friday, Sept. 4, as the date of her marriage to Tom Craig.

Today Miss Johns is the incentive for a mother-daughter party for which Mrs. Alice Simmons will be hostess at her home. Mrs. Simmons has invited eight guests for luncheon and an afternoon of bridge. The soon-to-be bride will be presented with a hostess gift.

* * *

—Another of the September brides is Miss Barbara Beechner whose marriage to Charles H. Ziegenbein also will be an event of Sept. 4.

Miss Beechner will be complimented on Monday evening when Miss Sandra Ellis, Miss Sally Downs and Miss Marne Gardner are dinner hostesses at the University Club. Dinner places will be arranged for 30, and the bride-to-be will be presented with a miscellaneous shower.

Five New Neighbors

The Lincoln Air Force Base in general, and the 818th Medical Group in particular were most happy to welcome Col. and Mrs. John R. Grunwell and their three children, Miss Jane Louise who, by the way has Japan as a birth place—John and Mark, who arrived very recently.

Col. and Mrs. Grunwell and their family are properly introduced in our Service column this morning, but just in case—the family is just back from a four years tour of duty in Japan where Col. Grunwell was commander of the 483rd TAC hospital.

In the picture with Col. and Mrs. Grunwell are their sons John (left) and Mark. Jane Louise is viewing proceedings from her mother's lap.

Pre-Nuptial Courtesies

In prenuptial courtesy to their daughter, Mary Margaret and her fiance, James Darlson, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence C. Draver will entertain at dinner on Friday evening at the Kopper Kettle. The guest list will include members of the family and the bridal party.

Miss Draver will become the bride of Mr. Carlson at a wedding to take place on Saturday, Aug.22.

A late August bride-elect, Miss Martha Danielson, was the guest of honor on Wednesday morning when Mrs. Robert Heilig and Mrs. Harold Arnold were co-hostesses at a coffee. Approximately 40 guests were invited to the one-gift affair, which was held at Hillcrest Country Club.

The wedding of Miss Danielson and Robert C. Minor of Rochester, N.Y , will take place on Tuesday, Aug. 25.

FIENE HEIGHTS

A special guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Garber recently was Mrs. Garber's father, Christ Seidler of Yakima, Wash. He spent 12 days with his son-in-law and daughter and his three grandchildren, Karen, Marvin, Jr., and Jimmy.

Before returning to his home in Yakima, Mr. Seidler planned to spend some time visiting other relatives in Minnesota and North Dakota.

KESSLER HEIGHTS

Leaving Sunday evening to return to her home in San Lorenzo, Calif., was Mrs. Max Knott, who as you know, used to live in Lincoln. While in Lincoln for two weeks, Mrs. Knott stayed at the home of her mother, Mrs. Gladys McDowell.

Mrs. Knott was honored on Aug. 8 when Mrs. Clem Tyrrell was a luncheon hostess at her home. Guests included Mrs. Jack Beers, Mrs. Robert Evans, and Mrs. Richard Bartow.

On Aug. 11, Mrs. Richard Bartow and Mrs. Jack Beers honored Mrs. Knott at a coffee at the home of Mrs. Beers. Ten guests attended.

They visited friends in St. John, Kan., and also stayed a few days at a cabin in Chadron State Park. They spent some time in McCook, dividing their stay between Mr. Marshall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Marshall and Mrs. Marshall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Dinnel.

HOLLINGSWORTH HEIGHTS

A few games of bridge were the reasons for the get-together at the Richard Campbell home Thursday evening. Mrs. Campbell entertained at a dessert for the eight members of her bridge club.

Dear Abby . . .

Dad Drives Us Wild

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My Dad is in his seventies and when he drives a car he is a danger on the streets. His reflexes are poor. I am afraid to let my children ride with him. When he comes here for his vacation and wants to drive, what can I do?

His pride is tied up in his ability to drive. He thinks he is a good driver, but he is a threat. Others may have this problem, too. Can you help us?

WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: Life and limb (your children's as well as his own) are more important than his "pride." Tell your Dad that because you love him and want him around for many more years, you don't want him to drive. Get the rest of your family to back you up. This may seem cruel, but it is a lot kinder than letting him kill himself. (P.S. Nearly 37,000 people were killed and 3 million were injured on American highways in 1958.)

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: Should I send wedding invitations to people who live too far away to come to my wedding?

I'm afraid if I don't send them an invitation they'll feel hurt. I am also afraid if I send them an invitation, knowing they can't come, it will look like I'm asking for a present. Could you advise me please?

OCTOBER BRIDE

DEAR BRIDE: In recent years, the formal wedding invitation has taken on the connotation of a "bill."

Send invitations only to those friends and relatives whom you feel will come to your wedding. Very few people are "hurt" because they fail to receive an invitation to a wedding they cannot attend.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: A very well-mannered and cordial neighbor has deliberately trained her dog to do things on our lawn that she doesn't want done on her own lawn.

She knows we disapprove strongly because she has stood in her doorway and watched us chase her dog from our yard several times.

We are puzzled. How can dog owners train their dogs to destroy and mess the property of others? Your advice is needed.

GREEN INK BUT NOT GREEN GRASS

DEAR GREEN: You are mistaken. Neighbors who train their dogs to destroy and mess the property of others are neither well-mannered nor cordial. Don't rely on anything so subtle as "chasing" her dog from your yard to convey your disapproval. Pay your neighbor a visit and tell her that if she doesn't keep her dog out of your yard, you will ask the Law to help protect your property.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: My four-year-old daughter was born two years before her father and I were married. When she was born I had to use my maiden name on her birth certificate fixed up

Her father and I are married now. How can I get her birth certificate fixed up proper like it should be?

MARRIED NOW

DEAR MARRIED: I doubt very much if you can "fix up" a birth certificate after it has been filed. Consult a lawyer.

☆ ☆ ☆

CONFIDENTIAL TO TROUBLED CONSCIENCE: Return the stolen articles and ask to be forgiven. Since this was your first offense you will probably be given another chance. It is doubly unfair to remain silent while suspicion falls on innocent parties.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, enclose a self-addressed envelope.

Service Circles Break News Barrier

BY SYBIL WEBBER

Between you, me and the fire hydrant, things are starting to percolate within our service circles after the usual summer lull, so we thought it was high time we dusted the mothballs from our typewriter and reported on some of the happenings around Air Base Heights.

☆ ☆ ☆

. . . first item to break the news barrier is the arrival of the new commander for the base hospital, Col. John R. Grunwell Jr., along with Mrs. Grunwell and their 3 youngsters, John, age 12; Mark, 10 and 10-month-old Jane Louise.

The Grunwells have just returned from a 4 year tour of duty at Ashiya AFB, in Japan, where Colonel Grunwell was commander of the 483rd TAC hospital. The colonel's official title at Lincoln is Commander of the 818th Medical Group.

☆ ☆ ☆

. . . and, while we're on the subject of the base hospital we would like to tell you of another important addition to its staff. We're speaking, of course, of the new chief nurse, Major Hazel A. Evans, a recent arrival from Walker AFB, New Mexico.

Major Evans is a living example of the adage that service folks must put down roots quickly in a new community. She wasted no time at all in purchasing a home on South 37th Street and is settling down to a pleasurable and busy tour in Lincoln.

☆ ☆ ☆

. . . would also like to record the arrival of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Warren Franchoni and their daughters, Cozette and Ilona. They have been staying at one of the guest houses on base and are in the throes of apartment hunting.

☆ ☆ ☆

. . . hear that two new brides will be welcomed into our service circles Aug. 22, when Lt. W. A. Sund weds Miss Sue Hardy of Lincoln, and Lt. R. H. Jones claims Miss Phyllis Brunkow as his bride. Both couples will hold receptions at the Officers Club.

☆ ☆ ☆

. . . Colonel and Mrs. Elkins Read, Jr., along with son, Tom and daughter, Nancy, plus grandmother Ione Powell, have returned from a very successful two weeks fishing trip to the Red River area in New Mexico.

Now this will fracture you. It seems Colonel Read had a particular lake located some one hundred miles from the resort cottage that he would go for his trout fishing expeditions. That was too far for six-year-old Nancy, so she amused herself by fishing off the dock near home with an old cane pole. She plopped her hook in the babbling brook and in no time at all came up with a beautiful rainbow!

☆ ☆ ☆

. . . would like to welcome M. Sgt. and Mrs. R. F. Wilhelmi to Lincoln AFB. They are back from four years at Nouasseur AFB, Morocco, and claim that Lincoln looks mighty good to them. The Wilhelmis have four youngsters in their family, including Judy, 10; Michael, 6; Gregory, 5 and Jim, age 2.

☆ ☆ ☆

. . . understand that Mrs. George McNutt and her three children have been visiting from Chicago this past week as guests of M. Sgt. and Mrs. Arthur D. Vlahovic, at their quarters in base housing. Mrs. McNutt is Mrs. Vlahovic's sister.

☆ ☆ ☆

. . . and, among the teen activities we find that 35 members of Teen Town are planning to soak up a little "South Pacific" atmosphere when they bus to Omaha on Sunday to attend the popular broadway musical. They will be accompanied by their Teen Town directors.

Square Dance Activities

For the regular weekly square dance sponsored by the Lincoln Council of Folk and Square Dance Clubs, to be held Saturday evening at the Antelope Park pavilion, members of the Westerners Club will serve as hosts and hostesses.

Dancing will begin at 8:30 o'clock, and guests are welcome to attend.

At the Aug. 15 dance, special guests of the council were Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Andrieu of New Orleans, La., Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Frerich of Holmesville, and Mr. and Mrs. Pat Collins of Omaha.

On Sunday, 18 square dance couples of the Lincoln Council were invited to Wahoo where they participated in the Rodeo arena show which featured a square dance performed by the Lincoln dancers and by members of the Lincoln Saddle Club and the Omaha Aksarben Riding Club and their mounts.

On Tuesday evening, the Guys And Gals Club executive board met at the home of the co-presidents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Gilmour to make plans for the year. The club's opening dance of the fall season will be held on Sept. 18.

NIGHT FLIGHT TO MANILA

EDITOR'S NOTE—In her last letter from Hong Kong, Mrs. William H. Hasebroock of West Point, describes a side trip to Portuguese Macao, and the flight to Manila where the 160 American club women attended the first Mid-Asian Conference of Federated Women's Clubs.

Our last day in Hong Kong and there was still so much to see and do that we hardly knew in which direction to start first. The briefing by Consul General Steeves of the United States assured us we would have difficulty accomplishing everything we wanted to do, and he was so right.

A 40-mile trip by boat to Macao, a tiny, friendly Portuguese possession on the China Sea, was proposed. This small area is the Monte Carlo of the East, and for many years served as the first important beacon for Western contact with China.

Hawaii has the beautiful blue waters of the Pacific, Hong Kong has the green waters of this section of the ocean, but at Macao there are only yellow waters, allegedly caused by the constant erosion of its steep hills. The first sight is the Catholic Cathedral atop a high hill. The homes are gaily-colored and latticed with many flower gardens.

Many buildings are of such antiquity that there is some doubt as to the correct date of their construction. The beauty of architecture the marvels of engineering knowledge of that time, and the traditions retained to the present all speak favorably of this tiny possession. The cleanliness of the streets, the homes, and the people is a welcome contrast to Hong Kong.

Back in Hong Kong we prepared for the three-hour flight to Manila. A Philippine Air Lines plane shuttled back and forth with the three sections of our group. Ours was the last to leave Hong Kong, and we were an hour late in arriving at the Manila International Air Terminal.

The Philippine clubwomen had long looked forward to this meeting and had many detailed and delightful plans for our coming. We arrived in the cool of the evening, 82 degrees.

Our approach was exciting. The lovely stewardesses requested us to turn off our window lights so as to see better the glorious coloring and brilliant array as we circled the extensive Manila Bay at night. I was strongly reminded of my first flight to Havana and its attractive radiance as you settle down among its glamour.

The Philippines are an immense archipelago of over 7,107 islands and islets, only 2,773 named, and 200 occupied. Most of the activity is associated with three islands, Luzon, Mindanao, and Leyte.

We are on Luzon and many names and words referred to in their soft musical manner of speech which is a compilation of Spanish, Tagalog, and English, recall places that were seared into our minds during the past war.

Ninety percent of south Manila on the bay was destroyed by the war; first by the Japanese in their intent to occupy, and the rest by the Americans, to dislodge the enemy from strongholds they had made. The beauty of century-old buildings and elegant homes was lost in that tragic period of Philippine history. Lost also were many brave Filipinos, men and women who dared to brave the conquering soldiers.

The effective influence of women who worked through women's club organizations is recognized as the most valiant in the country and the tremendous ovation this first Mid-Asian Conference is receiving is a token of the complete and valued appreciation of the natives for the objectives and goals of Federated clubwomen.

The marvelous rebuilding program enjoyed in these islands in the few years following the close of active fighting, and even more so since its independence on July 4, 1946, is fabulous to behold It is far from complete, but it is remarkable and great admiration must be given these chivalrous people for their determination and devotion.

Starters Picked For Stars' Game

Three Islanders Are Nominated For Lee's Nebraska Finale

By Al Beebe

Fremont—The North All-Star team is about as ready as it will ever be to face the South in the Shrine Bowl game in Omaha's Municipal Stadium Saturday night.

The drills from now until game time slated to polish blocking and tackling assignments, the biggest problem in camp Thursday was to find a helmet the correct size for co-captain Dick Stivers of Creighton Prep.

Stivers, tough 185-pounder, is one of several stars who have been on the injured list but are now ready.

Coach Jerry Lee, from Grand Island and making this game his finale in Nebraska, named a starting lineup dominated by 3 of his own Islanders and averaging 183 pounds on offense. The defensive squad, with only two changes, averages 182.

Roger Myers (174) at right halfback, fullback Ed Richards, (188) and guard Dick Krivolavek (180) are the Islanders.

Co-captain Carl Meyers (155), also of Creighton Prep, will get the quarterback nod with Sunday Journal and Star Athlete of the Year Tom Ernst, 185-pounder from Columbus, starting at tailback.

With Stivers and Krivolavek in the line are ends Mic Drum (185), Fremont, and Scottsbluff's Larry Donovan (165); tackles Ron Devish (210), Broken Bow and Bob Jones (200), West Point; and center Larry Krause of Scottsbluff, another 185-pound man.

John Moore of Alliance (190) moves in for Krivolavek on defense along with Columbus' Con Keating (165) for Ernst.

At Boys Town the South All-Star squad Thursday lost tackle Tom Moore.

He was ruled out because of a bad knee.

Moore was the second tackle lost to the south. The first was Gerald Parrish, Tecumseh, who earlier left the squad due to an ankle injury.

HAPPY HAROLD PICKS:

Harold

(Editor's Note: Winning at the races is just a matter of using a little horse sense. Recognizing this, the Star sports staff continues to bring you Happy Harold, whose Fairground selections are guaranteed to come straight from the horse's mouth.)

When the day arrives that a manned rocket is launched into outer space, it seems only fitting that a horse should be aboard.

For the horse is the Orbiting Animal. What, I ask, do the racehorse, the mill-horse and the merry-go-round horse have in common? One thing for sure: they all spend most of their time going around in circles.

And just think of the honors which humanity could bestow upon this equine astronaut. There could be a statue erected—a statue of a horse alone, that is, without some pompous general perched overhead.

Meanwhile, however, back on the planet earth:

First race—1, Loyal D; 2, Mr. Vi-Bid; 3, Tan's Orphan.

Second race—1, Star Royal; 2, Tile Boy; 3, Fido Pop.

Fifth race—1, Childers; 2, Arroyo; 3, Ole Different.

Sixth race—1, Woodfox; 2, Gypsy Dan; 3, Mr. Foxie.

Seventh race—1, Whist Action; 2, Money Grove; 3, Ed Luther entry (Quivira and The Snapper).

Eighth race—1, Brusher; 2, Dream Byrd H.; 3, Top Attraction.

Mexican Duo Hangs Tough In U.S. Meet

Brookline, Mass. (AP)—Barry MacKay and Ens. Myron Franks needed nearly 4 hours of desperate battle against the tenacious Palafox cousins from Mexico City today to survive the men's quarterfinals at the U.S. National Doubles Tennis Tournament.

MacKay and Franks won 4-6, 9-7, 6-2, 10-12 and 17-15.

Meanwhile Australian Davis Cuppers Neale Fraser and Roy Emerson, Wimbledon titlists and pre-tourney favorites at Longwood, moved almost effortlessly into the semifinals with a 6-3, 7-5 and 7-5 verdict over Crawford Henry and Donald Dell.

MacKay, teamed with Franks as the No. 2 seeded domestic entry, looked like anything but a Davis Cup challenge match defender on this humid afternoon.

Bloodworth Fails To Contain Bees

By Al Beebe

Lincoln pitcher Ron Bloodworth, a hitting hero in the 6th inning, failed as a pitcher in the 7th, losing control and helping Burlington to a 7-4 victory at Sherman Field Thursday night.

The win let Burlington salvage the third game of the series and closed out the Lincoln home stand with a 4-3 mark for the Chiefs. Lincoln goes to Cedar Rapids for a short 3-day trip tonight before returning home Monday.

Chiefs Lead 4-3

Bloodworth belted a long triple with George Olson on base to give the Chiefs a 4-3 lead in the 6th inning of a nip-and-tuck pitching duel with the Bees' Charles Herzberger.

But the hard run Bloodworth needed on the triple have worn out the hurler. and a subsequent successful slide into home plate may Bloodworth started the 7th by striking out Herzberger for his 8th victim, but he then issued his first walk of the night, to Ken Fisher. Wayne Connally lined to Deacon Jones at second for the second out.

Wild Pitch Hurts

But Dave Wondra singled Fisher to third, and Bloodworth then let go with a wild pitch, scoring Fisher on a close play at the plate.

Jones booted a grounder for what should have been the third out, and things really got rough. Bloodworth hit Spencer with a pitch, loading the bases, then walked in the go-ahead run.

That brought manager Ira Hutchinson out to flag in Jim Host for relief work, and Ernest Embry tagged a single to left for another pair of runs before Host got Perry Noun to fan.

With the 3-run cushion, Herzberger set the Chiefs down in order for the final 3 innings.

Chiefs Score First

Lincoln took a 1-0 lead in the opening inning on Don Bacon's walk, steal of second, and a double by Gene Martin. Burlington evened it in the 4th when the Chiefs committed two errors.

Both teams scored a pair in the 5th. Three singles, a hit batsman and a passed ball did it for Burlington. The Chiefs did it on singles by Al Schrader, Martin and Jones plus Herzberger's error.

Smoke Signals — Martin moved to first base, and Jones back to second, when Chuck Lehman again came up with leg injuries. . . . The Chiefs Wives took a 4-2 victory over their hubbies in a preliminary "contest." . . . . Bunk Warren (1-2) is slated to pitch tonight . . . . Dizzy Trout, and Red Ruffing, ex-major league pitching greats, arrived at SF Thursday. They'll conduct a Chicago White Sox tryout camp here Saturday.

Kansas City, Mo. — This is the day the Hotel Muehlebach here orders an extra supply of towels.

They're needed to mop up after the Big 8 football coaches finish listing all their 1959 woes.

If today's press conference and alumni confab runs true to form, the wailing and gnashing of teeth may be heard in Lincoln.

After listening to the 8 coaches — Cliff Speegle of Oklahoma State is in the best spot since his Cowboys don't have any league pressure until 1960—the scribes and alums will be wondering if any loop teams will be able to win a single game.

Missouri's Dan Devine undoubtedly will bemoan the fact that the Tigers lost 9 players to the profs. He will also undoubtedly neglect to mention that flunkees were sophs who didn't figure higher than the 5th string anyway.

Sonny Grandelius, making his debut at the quizzing session, can make hay by stressing the difficulties surrounding the transition from the Dal Ward regime.

Common Complaint

All will complain about the "lack of speed" and the departure of last year's seniors.

Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma, who has long since retired the "We'll-Be-Lucky-To-Field-11-Men Trophy," warmed up for the session a few weeks ago.

He allowed that the Sooners might be a good football team if they could come through the first 4 games intact.

Big 8 followers who have heard variations of this theme in the past are betting Oklahoma somehow will scrape together some horses for the early going.

The coaches enjoy weeping to each other, too. During the dinner hour last night several of them rehearsed for the Alum show.

"We can't possibly make a first down against you," said one to another.

"Don't give me that," countered the second coach. "I'll have a hard time talking my kids into going on the field at your place."

Regardless of the poo-pooing, most observers figure the league will be stronger this year. They point to Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska as the key examples.

At any rate, none of the teams will be as bad as their coaches will paint them today.

Good News

Carroll Zaruba, Husker halfback, spent the summer as a field promotion man for the Extra Point Club. Prior to the trip here, he told me he has been greeted with "an awful lot of enthusiasm" during his travels around the state.

"It's been wonderful and the fans are really getting behind the program," he said.

A statewide fund drive is slated for early September.

Kansas State is busy promoting its booster group which is similar to the Touchdown and Extra Point club.

Wilt, Co. Play Here On Oct. 12

The 1959-60 basketball season in Lincoln will be opened on a big league note with two National Basketball Association title contenders, the St. Louis Hawks and Philadelphia Warriors, playing a preseason game at Pershing Municipal Auditorium on Oct. 12.

The game will see a return of the fabulous Wilt Chamberlain to the Capitol City. Chamberlain has joined Owner Eddie Gottlieb's Philadelphia team after a season with the Harlem Globetrotters and two fantastic years with the Kansas University Jayhawks.

St. Louis, coached by "Easy Ed" MacCauley, won the Western Division NBA championship last year and features such familiar standouts as Bob Pettit, Slater Martin, Cliff Hagen, Charlie Share, Al Farrari and another ex-Kansas great, Clyde Lovellette.

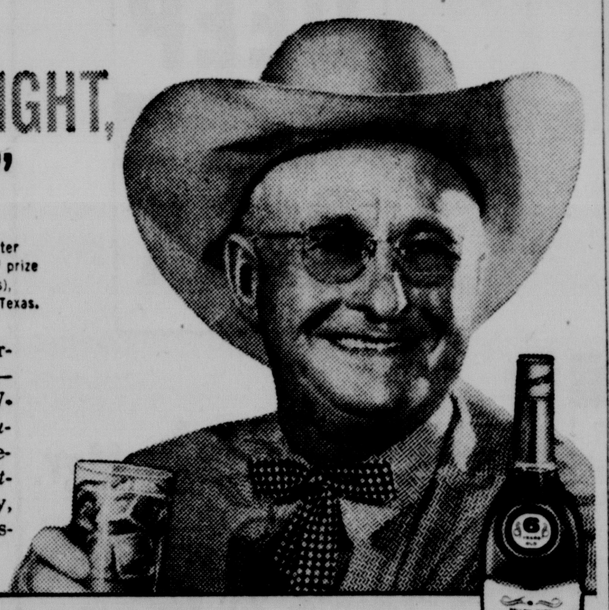

Philadelphia's roster will see Tom Gola, Paul Arizin, Willy Saulsbury, Neal Johnston, Jack George and Wilt highlighting the roster.

Return of Chamberlain promises Lincoln peak interest in the game. With Wilt the Globetrotters drew 6,372 paid at Pershing just last January in a game that was a complete sellout three days ahead of the date.

Fast Start Peps Birds

Chicago (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles started fast with 3 runs in the first and staved off the Chicago White Sox for a 7-6 victory here Thursday.

Young Barry Latman was the victim of the Orioles' quick start and the winners continued their attack to roll up 13 hits off 7 Sox pitchers. Bill Klaus showed the way with 4 hits.

Hoyt Wilhelm pitched the first 6 innings for Baltimore and retired with a 5-4 lead. Billy Loes protected Wilhelm's victory despite a shaky 7th inning.

Klaus opened the Baltimore offense with a single to right. Al Pilarcik then got a fluke single when Latman slipped and fell while fielding his bunt.

Bob Nieman fanned, but Gene Woodling doubled off the right field wall to score Klaus. Pilarcik tallied on Bob Boyd's sacrifice fly, and Woodling came home when Billy Goodman booted Chico Carrasquel's grounder.

Cerv Slams Three Out

Kansas City (AP)—Bob Cerv hit 3 home runs here Thursday for Kansas City but Boston beat out a steady barrage of base hits that gave the Red Sox an 11-10 victory.

Cerv drove in 6 runs with his 3 homers in the wild game that produced some comic opera aspects. There were two 5-run innings, one for Boston and one for the A's.

Bolling, Harris Pep Tigers' Win

Detroit (AP) — Frank Bolling and Gail Harris each drove across 5 runs while leading Detroit to a 14-2 blasting of New York as the Tigers slammed 8 extra-base hits off 3 Yankee pitchers here Thursday.

Jim Bunning benefited from the lusty support and pitched a 5-hitter for his 12th victory and his first over the Yankees this season.

Bolling hit his 9th and 10th home runs and added a single in 5 trips. Harris, who has been in a season-long slump, connected for a single, double and a bases-loaded triple.

Charlie Maxwell also hit for the circuit, getting his 27th home run as Detroit salvaged the final of a 3-game series.

Pittsburgh Eases Past St. Louis, 3-1

Pittsburgh (AP) — Righthander Bob Friend struck out 11 batters and gove up 9 hits Thursday in leading the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 3-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Friend turned in a sparkling performance, giving up only one base on balls and running into serious trouble only in the 6th inning.

Friend's strikeout total was his highest of the season and came within one of the club record of 12 strikeouts in one game set by Babe Adams in 1909.

Guard Camp BreaK-Up Close At Hand

Camp Ripley, Minn. (AP)—Men of the Iowa-Nebraska National Guard 134th infantry regiment were cleaning equipment Thursday, preparing for pay day and the break-up of the annual encampment.

The eventful period, first field trial under the pentomic organization plan, ended on soggy plane as guardsmen in the field Wednesday night were drenched by a one-inch downpour, and straggled back to the headquarters area soaking wet after their night in the field.

One Iowa officer returned from the field to find that officers and men were preparing a citation for a possible soldiers' medal for him.

He is Capt. Pierce D. Dusenberry, 33, commander of the Glenwood, Iowa, a company of the First battle group, 168th infantry.

Capt. Dusenberry, a postal employe, was credited with saving the life of an unidentified Nebraska Guardsman at "37 Acres," a lake used by the Iowa-Nebraska National Guard 134th division for weekend recreation.

"I don't want a medal. I'd rather have some swimming lessons. I had a real rough time," he said.

Witnesses said the near victim had jumped from a row boat into deep water, panicked and floundered. The captain jumped from a nearby boat after the guardsman went under once.

"He brushed aside a life preserver and grabbed me and we both went under," Dusenberry said, "I finally got him to the boat where he was OK after some rest. If I had been a better swimmer it would have been easier. There would have been nothing to it."

The closing hours of the camp were not without flashes of GI humor, as veterans preyed on the gullibility of rookies.

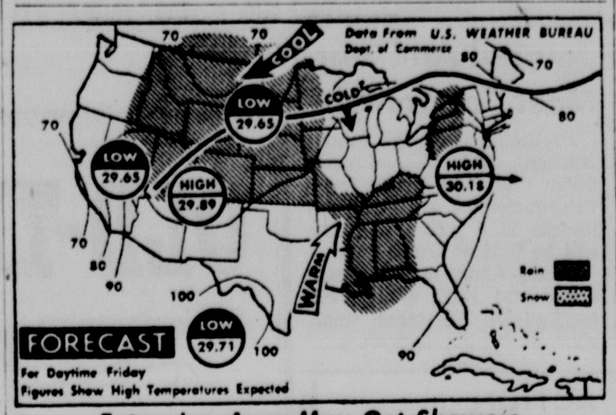

Maj. Gen. Warren Wood of Gering, Neb., division commander, was standing near the operations office of the division air field when a young guardsman approached him and asked "Sir, when does the plane for International Falls leave?"

Gen. Wood did a double take and then examined the ticket clutched in the rookie's hand.

Sure enough, it read "admit one to International Falls flight."

"They sold it to me in the outfit for $2," explained the rookie. "I could have gotten a round trip ticket to Des Moines for $2.20."

After explaining that the Army does not run excursion flights, Gen. Wood gave the rookie a tip to avoid future embarrassment: "Son, he said, "when they get around to telling you to come to me for the cannon report, don't."

Extensive Area May Get Showers

Scattered showers or thundershowers are expected Friday over the Lakes area, the Ohio and Tennessee Valleys, the Gulf Coast and an area from the upper Mississippi Valley westward through the Rockies. It will be cooler in the upper Mississippi Valley; warmer in Montana, Washington and Oregon. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Couple Wed 60 Years Honored At North Bend Celebration

Lincoln Star Special

North Bend, Neb. — Three thousand persons flocked to North Bend Thursday to attend the 36th annual Old Settler's Picnic.

The celebration, which began with a parade in the morning and ended with an evening dance, is held each year the day before North Bend's annual Popcorn Day.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Trin of Fremont won the loving cup presented annually to Dodge County's longest married couple. The Trins were married in 1899.

The Catholic Church women's group served lunch, followed by a concert by the North Bend High School Band. A horseshoe pitching contest and a baseball game between Schuyler and North Bend filled out the afternoon's agenda.

Samuel I. Berek of Fremont gave the main address, and Maj. Robert Mehaffey extended the welcome.

Prize-winners in the morning parade were:

Churches—St. Peter's Lutheran Church and the United Presbyterian Church (tie.)

Organizations — Livestock Lassies 4-H Club, 1st.

Parking Meter Holiday Ordered

Fairbury, Neb. (AP) — Fairbury has declared a moratorium on overparking.

The City Council adopted a resolution this week to cover meters and issue no parking tickets until after a special election Sept. 22 on a proposal to abolish the meters.

"Let anybody park wherever he wants to" commented Mayor Harry Stearns," we'll find out before election" whether or not the meters are worth retaining.

Packed Grandstands Witness Annual Rodeo At Sidney, Ia.

Lincoln Star Special

Sidney, Ia. — The Sidney Championship Rodeo, always a big attraction in rodeo circles, is playing to sell-out crowds in its 36th year.

Dale Robertson, star of Television's Tales of Wells Fargo, is "giving the kids quite a thrill," according to an official of the Sidney American Legion, sponsors of the annual rodeo.

The grandstands, with a capacity of 10,000, have been "packed for every performance," officials said.

"And one out of every 5 spectators is from Nebraska," they noted.

The rodeo held its first performance Tuesday evening, and runs through the final matinee Sunday afternoon. Daily performances are at 2:30 and 8 p.m.

Miss Donna Jo Briley graces this year's rodeo as queen of the Sidney Rodeo. Honors are not new for Miss Briley, officials said. She was also Miss Southwest Iowa and Miss Congeniality and runner-up in the Miss Iowa contest.

Six of the record 178 cowboys entered are from Nebraska, officials said. They are Dean Banks of Benkelman, Bob Rankin and "Kick" Graff of Lincoln, L. E. Hennings of Omaha, Neil Samuels of LaPlatte and Bruce Coker of Sutherland. Also contending are 8 former or current champion cowboys.

Second-day winners at the rodeo were:

Calf roping—Monroe Tumlinson.

Brahma Bull riding—Joe Green, with 175 points.

Bareback Bronc riding—George Culbreth.

Professional Saddle Bronc riding—George Myren.

Amateur Saddle Bronc riding—Ken Prette of Australia.

Dodge Co. Jail To Help Relieve Douglas Situation

Omaha (AP) — Dodge County Sheriff Pelham McGee has agreed to accept 15 prisoners from the Douglas County Jail, Sheriff Patrick E. Corrigan said Thursday.

Corrigan said prisoners, serving sentences for misdemeanor convictions, will be transferred to the city jail at Fremont. The charge at Fremont will be $1.75 a day per prisoner.

Corrigan said he hoped to make similar arrangements with the sheriffs at Tekamah and Papillion. The transfer is necessary because the Douglas County jail is full.

The Omaha Police Department will furnish a patrol wagon and driver to help move the prisoners, Corrigan added. Orders authorizing the transfer have been drawn up by District Judge Patrick Lynch.

Foreign Military Aid Funds At 'Dangerously Low Level'—Ike

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower's special committee on arms aid has called anew for a big stepup in appropriations to equip America's allies with modern weapons

The final report by a 10-man group of prominent citizens headed by investment banker William H. Draper Jr., ran counter to congressional foreign aid cuts and administration desires to hold down spending.

But Eisenhower, sending the unanimous report on to Congress with praise for its "invaluable guidelines," agreed that funds authorized for military assistance this year are at what he called a "dangerously low level."

Congressional informants said the administration has indicated it will seek a supplemental aid appropriation in January. Eisenhower said a variety of other Draper recommendations for strengthening the program will be studied by the administration before it decides what to do about them.

Eisenhower asked Congress for $1,600,000,000 in military aid this year. The legislators are in the process of chopping this down by 200 or 300 million dollars.

The Senate Appropriations Committee, at a hearing on the foreign aid program, heard it attacked as unconstitutional and contrary to the wishes of the great majority of Americans.

The criticism came from Clarence Manion of South Bend, Ind., former dean of the Notre Dame Law School, and Walter Harnischfeger of Milwaukee, chairman of the Citizens Foreign Aid Committe.

Manion, who is counsel for the Citizens Committee, contended that an anti-foreign aid candidate for President next year would sweep the country.

He and Harnischfeger testified against Eisenhower's over-all foreign aid program of 3½ billion dollars, which includes economic as well as arms aid.

The Draper Committee set two billion dollars as the least needed for arms aid alone to keep the free world strong.

"We believe," it said, "that the much lower amount which is likely to be appropriated for fiscal year 1960 involves a serious security danger for the United States and for the free world."

The study group portrayed the Communists as still bent on dominating the world.

WESLEYAN U. '59 CLASSES AVERAGE 21

Classes at Nebraska Wesleyan University averaged approximately 21 students durind the 2nd semester of the 1958-59 year, President Vance D. Rogers said Thursday.

Dr. Rogers said a survey of the 201 regularly scheduled classes during this period disclosed that 115 had from one to 20 students while at the other extreme two had from 71 to 80.

"It should be noted that some courses which are required of all students necessarily add to the teaching load of some teachers," Dr. Rogers said. "However, we are making steady progress toward the narrowing of this problems with the addition of new faculty members in crowded subject matter areas."

—Annual survey indicates that about 82 per cent of students enrolled last year and eligible to return will be in classes this fall. This percentage figure is somewhat higher than in recent years.

—Applications from new students are at a record level.

—Elimination of the two-year teacher certificate is holding dropouts in the education department to a minimum.

Classes at Wesleyan are scheduled to begin September 15, but new students orientation activities will formally launch the fall program beginning September 11.

Not Guilty Plea Made To Disturbing Peace

DeBoer, 32, was arrested Tuesday after he allegedly tried to get two girls, ages 9 and 6, to get into his car near 46th and W.

Ruling Made On County Hospital Tax Money Sum

It is mandatory for a county board to raise by taxes the amount of money for the county hospital as certified by the county hospital board of trustees, the Nebraska Attorney General said Thursday.

The opinion was written at the request of Guy G. Curtis of Imperial, acting attorney for Chase County, by Atty. Gen. C. S. Beck and Assistant Atty. Gen. Homer L. Kyle.

Curtis asked if the county board had the discretion either to eliminate entirely the amount certified to it by the hospital board of trustees for maintenance and improvements, or to scale down the amount, on the theory the hospital already has sufficient money on hand for the ensuing year.

Concluded the attorney general: "The language of the statute is mandatory and the county board has no discretion in the matter but must levy the tax which is certified to it."

Petitions For Kennedy To Start Soon

Petitions will begin circulating within the next 3 or 4 weeks to place the name of Sen. John Kennedy of Massachusetts on the 1960 Nebraska Democratic presidential primary ballot, Sens. Hans Jensen of Aurora said Thursday.

Jensen, who is leading the Kennedy forces in Nebraska, said he will announce shortly the names of the "key" Nebraskans he has lined up to head the petition drive.

He estimated it would take about one week to get the necessary 100 signatures in each of the state's 4 congressional districts.

As soon as the petition drive is completed, Jensen said, the petitions will be submitted to Kennedy for his approval and decision as to whether he will enter the Nebraska primary.

"Sen. Kennedy certainly is the leading Democratic candidate for the presidential nomination," said Jensen.

"His overall knowledge on national and international problems is something I think not only Democrats, but Republicans as well, will accept at election time," Jensen said.

STOCKS ADVANCE SHARPLY

New York (AP) — The stock market stormed ahead Thursday for the sharpest advance since November 1957.

Steels and rail shares spearheaded the sizzling rally which tacked fractions to around five points onto the prices of leading issues. The upsurge added an estimated four billion dollars to the quoted value of all shares listed on the New York Stock Exchange, based on the advance in the Associated Press average.

This average of 60 stocks soared $3 to $230.30 as the industrials ran up $4.10, the rails $4.7 and the utilities 20 cents.

The average last gained more on Nov. 27, 1957, when it romped ahead $3.90. That advance was attributed to an improvement in President Eisenhower's condition following a mild stroke.

The Dow Jones industrial index Thursday climbed 8.49 to 655.02. Standard & Poor's 500 stock index gained .87 at 59.14. All the closing averages are well below 1959 peaks.

Brokers traced the market's shipping gain in part to a reaction to a recent steady price erosion and in part to Labor Secretary Mitchell's call for a swift steel strike settlement.

A surge in steel shares early in the session ignited the rest of the market.

Then, near the close, the market gathered more momentum after Southern Pacific directors proposed a stock split and dividend boost.

Trading pounded along at a brisk clip during the two rallies but overall, the advance did not excite too much trading interest. Volume shrank to 2,450,000 shares from 3,050,000 Wednesday.

Moreover, the range of stocks traded narrowed. Of 1,179 issues traded, 807 gained ground and 192 declined. New lows for the year were set by 15 stocks and new highs by 10 stocks.

All of the 15 most actively traded stocks advanced.

In dull bond dealings, U.S. government and corporate issues generally slipped a shade.

Bond sales totaled $5,150,000 par value compared with $6,640,000 Wednesday.

RYE SUFFERS BIGGEST LOSS

Chicago (AP) — The volume of grain futures trading expended moderately Thursday and price ranges broadened considerably with the bread grains under increasing pressure.

Despite a renewal of flour mill and export buying, wheat declines ran to major fractions of a cent on liquidation and hedge selling stemming from harvest of the spring crop.

July rye, however, was by far the biggest loser. It slumped 2¼ cents while soybeans finished with their best gains in more than a week after absorbing a brisk flurry of selling shortly after noon.

Some of the support for soybeans appeared to be related to word that exports for the year have gone over 100 million bushels and may reach 110 million by the end of the crop year on Oct. 1.

At times both soybeans and rye held advances of a cent or more before retreating under profit taking.

The renewal of even a small amount of wheat buying by mills was viewed as an indication that they might be in the market more frequently soon for larger purchases to maintain the peak grind believed necessary to fulfill commitments.

In the cash market corn was unchanged and wheat only a shade easier.

Wheat futures closed ⅛-¾ cent a bushel lower, September $1.89⅜; corn unchanged to ¼ lower, September $1.19⅜; oats ⅜ higher to ¼ lower, September new type contract 67-67⅛; rye ¼-2¼ lower, September $1.28½; soybeans ¼-½ higher, September $2.09¼-⅜.

Invaders Of Haiti Wiped Out

...Identity Uncertain

Port au Prince, Haiti (AP)—Government troops have wiped out a rebel band that landed on the southwest tip of Haiti a week ago, reliable informants said Thursday.

The Army would say only that the invaders were brought to battle and 12 of them were killed. The informants said 25 were killed and 16 either wounded or captured after Army units flushed them from hideouts in the mountains.

Tracked Down

One official account said machinegun and mortar squads trapped the band while the invaders were roasting a goat in a mountain valley. Twelve were said to have been killed there. The remainder fled into the mountains, but were tracked down, the report said.

The informants said the invaders did not get off a shot and there were no casualties among the army troops.

Both official and unofficial accounts agreed the army made its first contact with the Elusive rebels, believed to have landed from Cuba, Wednesday near Tiburon.

The nationality and identity of the invaders is uncertain. The Army identified some of them as Cubans.
